Jimmy,
 You're one of the first people
 I met from Andrew School when I came here - You think you were a good choice. - Well I do - It's been more than fun ~~knowing~~ knowing you. Good luck always - Specially in School because you really getting yourself up to the big time as it is now. More fun than much this summer

Ann Daniel

Jim,
 You're one of the funniest guys I know.

It's been really great knowing you this year and I hope our friendship lasts a long time.

The best of everything that's worth having in the future.

I'll see you this summer.

Jim,
 It's really been great knowing you this year! You are really one of the toughest guys I know. I mean it!
 Have a great summer
 and good luck next year
 a president (I voted for you!)

ELCOME to the 1965-66 STARSTONE. The year-book staff invites you to look through the following pages. In essence this book has no theme as such. Its sole aim is to present a complete picture of Wakefield—from registration to graduation, from football to baseball, from senior pictures to senior pranks.

"To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven:"

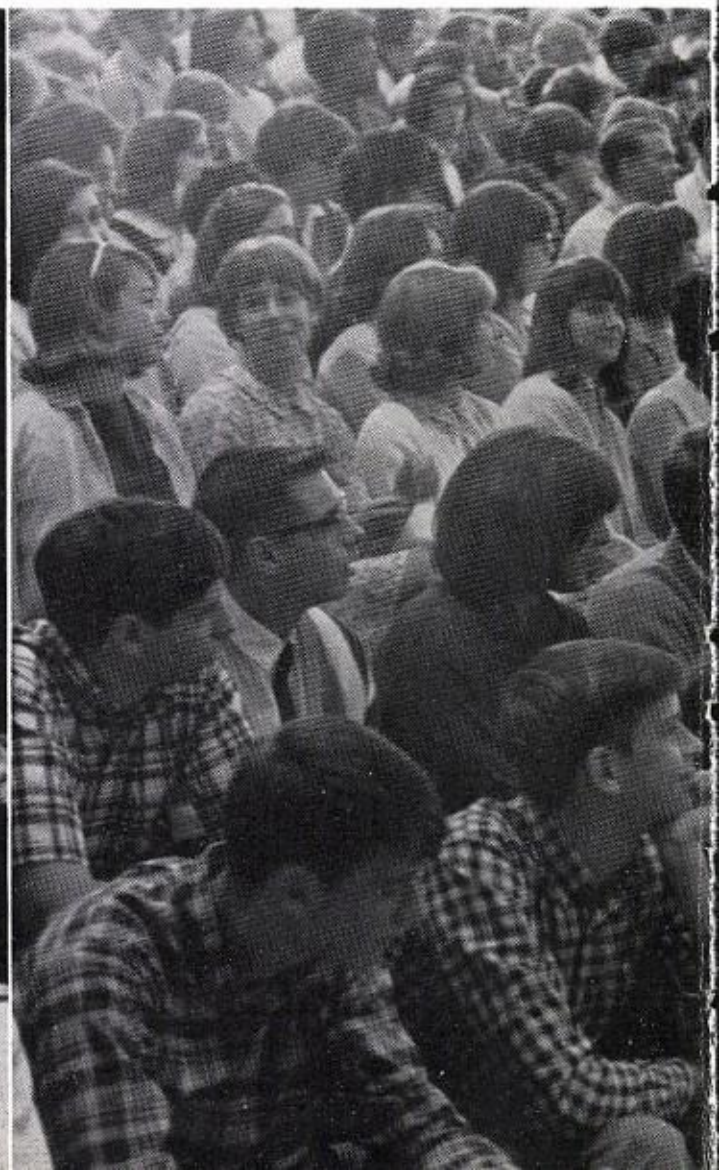

Ecclesiastes 3:1

Autumn came and brought with it enthusiasm and school spirit. The beginning of school offered endless opportunities for scholastic, athletic, and personal achievements. The traditional Wakefield spirit was clearly shown by the Warriors' participation in pep rallies, football games, club inductions and projects, and school presentations.

Warriors greeted winter with a heightened interest in school life. Each weekend brought many students to Wakefield as wrestling matches, basketball games, and dances provided the Warriors with an active social life. Academic pressure increased as students prepared for college boards and term papers. All breathed a sigh of relief as Christmas vacation came and offered to the new president of the senior class. It's been a great year and a riot knowing ya. Don't forget all those unforgettable

Jim,
S.C.H. meetings! It's really been a lot of fun and a year I'll never forget. I'm sure you'll have to work hard ~~the~~

a chance to relax and renew old acquaintances. However, with the reopening of school, students were again thrust into the old routine of classes and homework.

As winter passed into spring, its icy grip was replaced by a rash of spring fever. There was a general reawakening of romance, anticipation, and a vague awareness that this school year would soon be slipping into the past. Attention began to focus on the very special class of '66—their hopes, dreams and ambitions. For the seniors this was the last opportunity to be a true part of Wakefield's many activities. Soon came graduation, and with it a last-minute fling of parties, handclasps, and tears. One chapter in the lives of the Warriors of '66 was at an end. Now was the time for "patience and looking away ahead, And leaving some things to take their course."

We, the yearbook staff, offer the STARSTONE as a remembrance of this year at Wakefield. It is our sincere hope that in the future this book may help you relive many meaningful and worthwhile experiences. The staff congratulates the class of '66 and wishes it continued success as it leaves Wakefield and enters the world.

*A year of achievement begins . . . confusion reigns . . .
new faces, some pensive, some puzzled . . . new challenges
. . . new adjustments . . .*

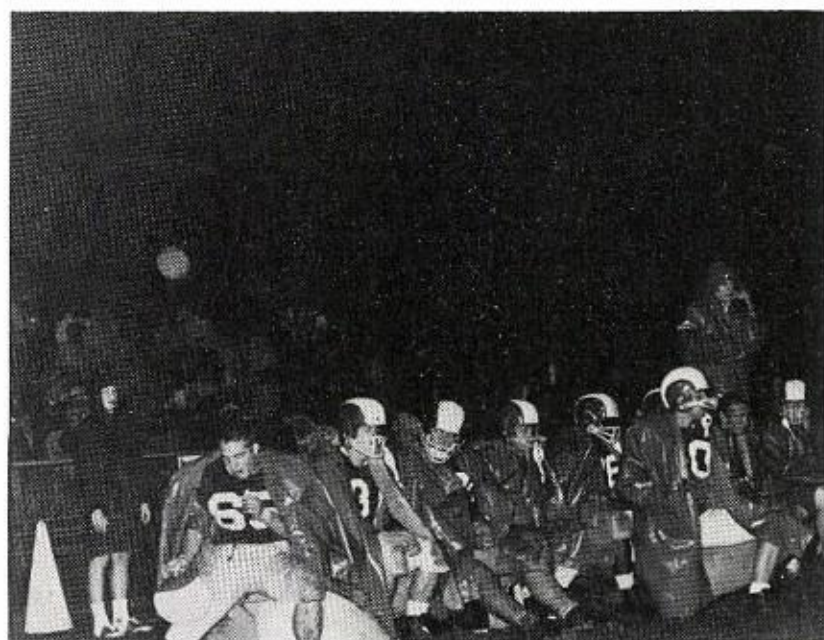

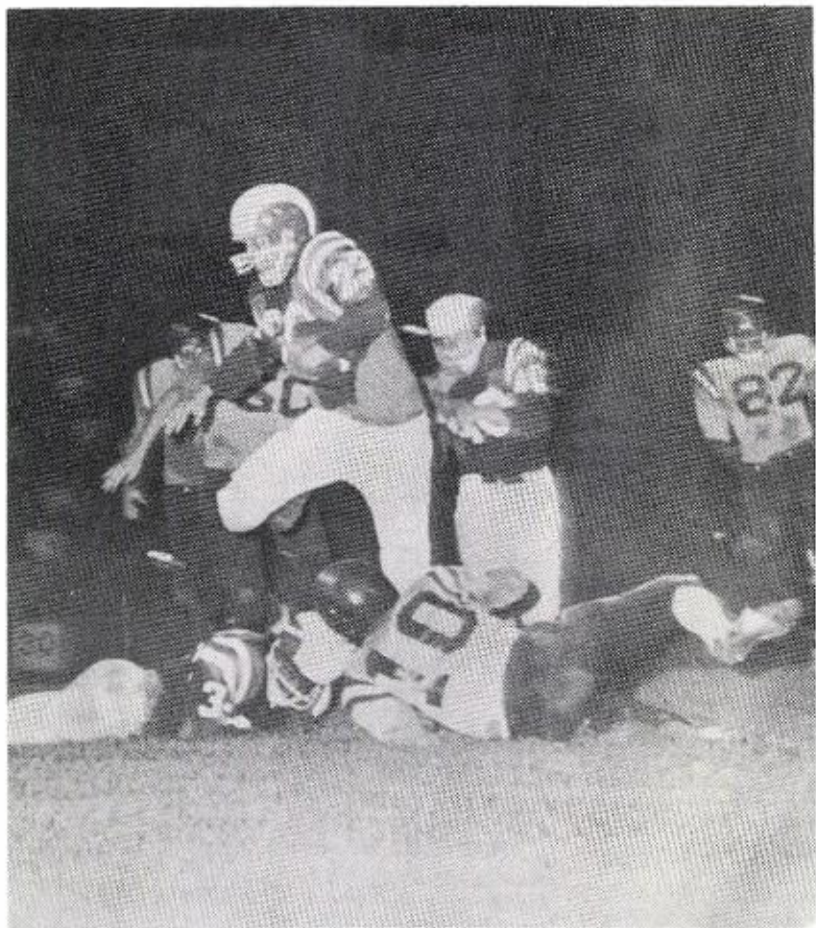

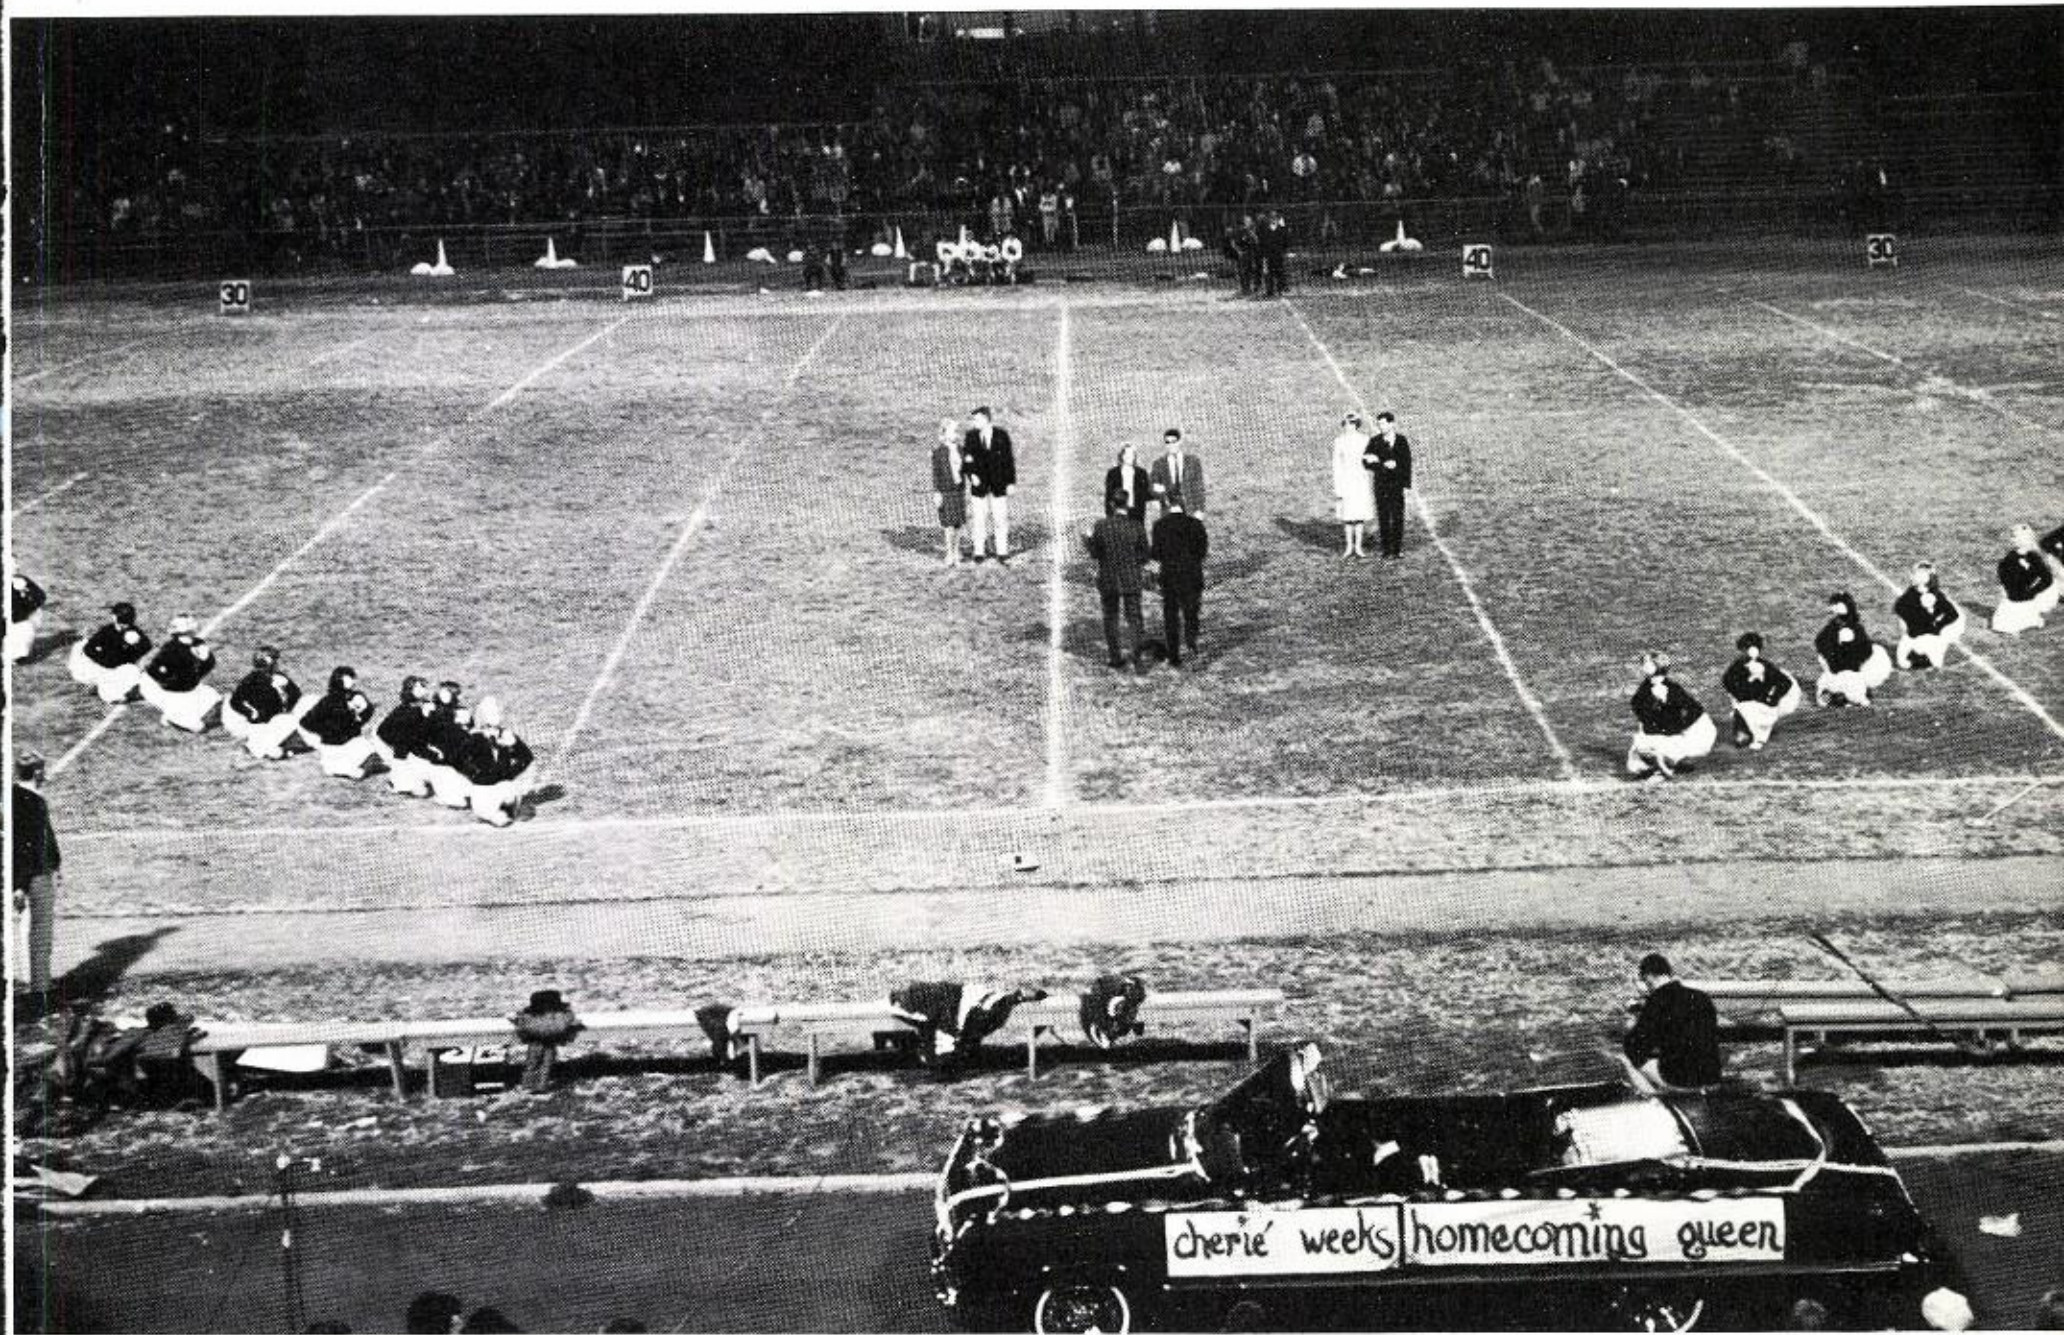

*. . . friends in the halls, rivals on the hockey field . . .

 lowed by the solemnity of Baccalaureate and Commencement . . . the Class of '66 graduates—the year has passed.

Love ya,
 Mary Garber

As the year unfolded, the changing seasons brought new challenges and opportunities to everyone at Wakefield. Although different in many ways, together the seasons provided the background for '65-'66, the best year yet. Throughout this book the story is told day by day, season by season . . .

Jim-

I'll NEVER FORGET "my LOVER" STAY
AS SWEET AND AS CUTE AS YOU ARE

A YEAR OF ACHIEVEMENT . . .

Throughout the year, Wakefield students participated and excelled in many activities. The fall brought inductions of new members to societies, the play, "The Solid Gold Cadillac," and the formation of new governments. With the coming of winter, students attended the lighting ceremony of the SCA-sponsored Christmas tree and festive concerts. In the spring, students concluded a year of accomplishment with concerts, recitals, and awards.

Activities

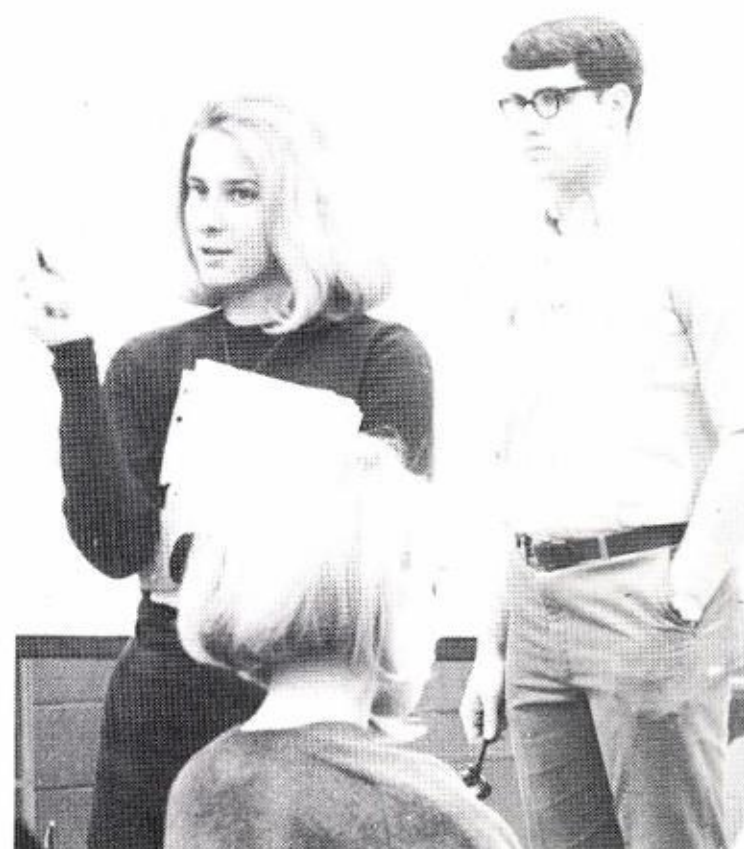

SCA Sponsors Safe Drivers Week

Composed of the entire student body of Wakefield High School, the Student Cooperative Association, better known as the S.C.A., works throughout the year representing the student body in its association with the faculty, administration and the community. The S.C.A. published the annual Student Directory and the Student Handbook. It has also contributed much to the social events at Wakefield and to the W-L Pep Rally. Besides raising money in a charity drive, the S.C.A. contributed money for the American Field Service. Another one of the activities included sponsoring of Safe Teen Drivers Week for students. The S.C.A. provides these activities in the best interest of the entire student body at Wakefield High School. Besides promoting good leadership, the S.C.A. betters the student in the school, in the community and in the state. The Student Cooperative Association is perhaps the most active and the best-known organization in Wakefield High School with the officers, the representatives, and the cabinet members who deal with the various aspects of school life.

Merit Semi-Finalists are Named

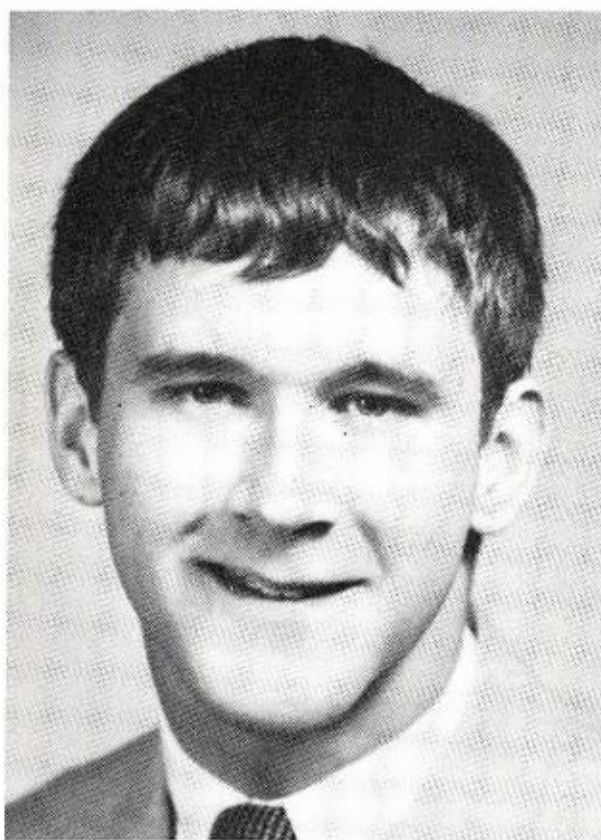

JIM BUTLER

Wakefield's class of '66 boasts of ten National Merit Scholarship Semi-Finalists. In order to become a finalist, the semi-finalist takes the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board, submits a form filled out by himself and his school and furnishes financial information for use if he becomes a Merit Scholar.

Purposes of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation are to identify students of unusual intellectual attainment and promise; to provide a means whereby corporations, colleges and other sources of financial aid can help support able students to the extent of their needs.

Six Chosen for Recognition By Faculty

STARSTONE awards are made on the basis of faculty selection of those students who faculty members feel have shown great loyalty to Wakefield and who have made notable contributions to the school through service in various areas. Faculty members were asked to nominate students for this recognition and the entire list of nominees was then submitted to the faculty for selection. The six receiving the largest number of votes were named winner of this award.

KATHY ASPLUND

Kathy Asplund, ranking eighth in her class of 800, is an active member of the National Honor Society, Math Honor Society, and French Honor Society. Socially, she is a member of the Keyettes and participated on the S.C.A. Dance Committee.

LINDA LYDON

Linda has been an active member of the Student Council. She was Representative in her Sophomore year, Vice President her Junior year, and Secretary of Social Activities in her Senior year. In addition to her work on the S.C.A., Linda belonged to the Keyettes, Drill Team, and Wakefield Guides.

BETTY PASCOE

Betty Pascoe is very active in all walks of school life. She was Biology Lab Assistant, Clinic Assistant, and Attendance Assistant in her senior year. Betty was also a member of the National Honor Society, Shakespearean Society and the AB Honor Roll.

ED SCHONFELD

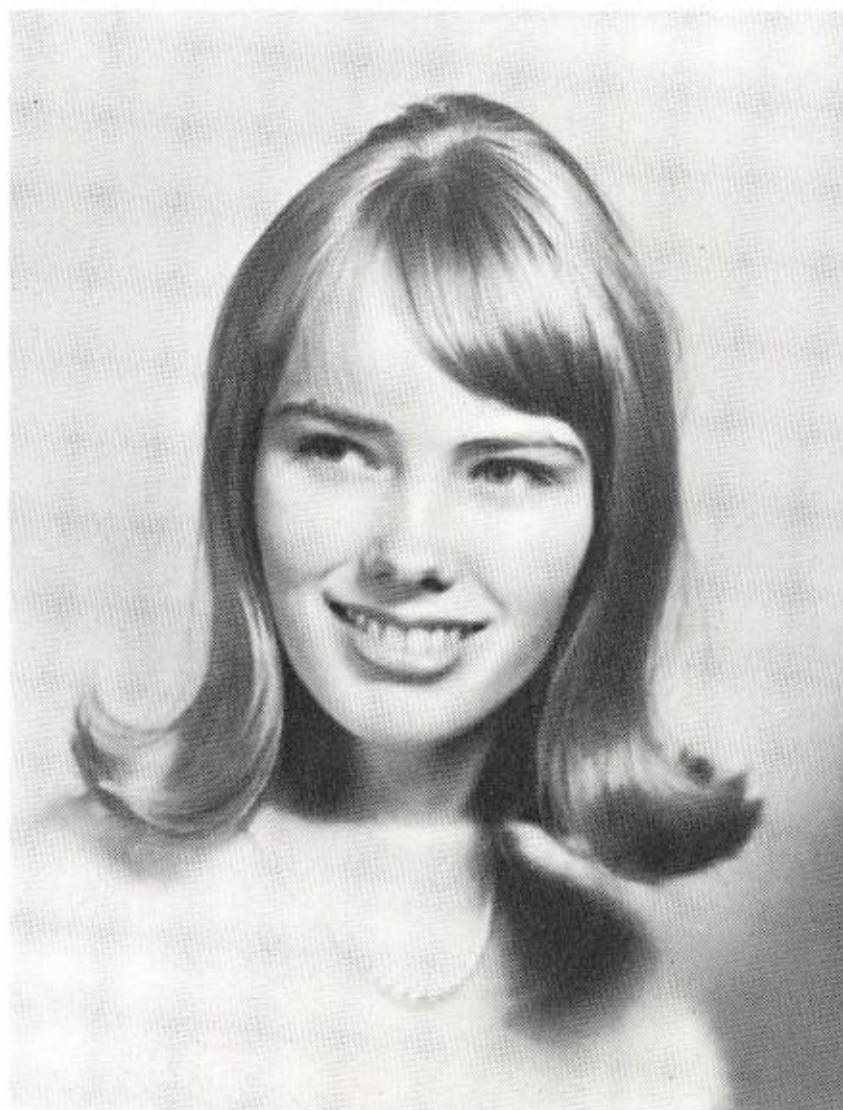

Ed, a member of the National Honor Society, has been quite active in Wakefield's school newspaper, the Signal. In his sophomore year he was a reporter and Assistant Sports Editor; junior year, News Editor; and senior year, Editor-in-Chief. He is a member of National Honor Society and Wakefield's National Council of Teachers of English winner.

HEIDI SPARKES

Heidi, 29th in her class of 800, was a member of the National Honor Society, the Keyettes, Wakefield Guides and Drill Team during her junior and senior years. The summer of 1966, Heidi will spend in some foreign country of her choice, as a result of being an American Field Service winner.

RICHARD TAFFE

Throughout his senior high school days, Richard has been interested in journalism. He has been an active member of the Quill & Scroll and Wakefield's bi-weekly newspaper, the Signal. Some of his other interests are PHI Service Club and the Monogram Club.

National Honor Society

One of the most distinguished organizations in the school is the National Honor Society. It is composed of about one hundred students who excel in scholarship, leadership, service, and character. The main function of the Honor Society is providing service to Wakefield. The students work throughout the year on such projects as the registration of pupils for PSAT, ushering at the Spring Concert, and compiling questions for the annual division college bowl. In 1965, the National Honor Society sponsored the Alumni Pow Wow and operated the College Machine. Along with the SCA, the Honor Society has been studying the possibility of promoting an Honor Code at Wakefield.

Mr. Stover, Sponsor; Nancy Hough, Secretary; Robert Shostak, President; James Butler, Vice President; Jerry Grossman, Treasurer.

Mu Alpha Theta

Mu Alpha Theta, one of Wakefield's most active societies, is a national organization which honors students who show superior ability in their math courses. Every year the Society sponsors a booth of mathematical games for Wakefield Day. A tutoring service is another of the many activities of Mu Alpha Theta. An annual spring contest for all students is this Society's answer to potential Einsteins at Wakefield. Brains are not everything to the members, and this year plans were discussed for a "Math Dance," in which a computer finds a perfect date for every boy in Wakefield.

French Honor Society

Students who excel in French have an opportunity to be members of the French Honor Society. Through cultural and varied programs, members become acquainted with France and its language. The society attended a movie on the Chateaux of the Loire Valley and the performance of Marcel Marceau. A speaker from a French-speaking country in Africa spoke to the group. A French college bowl with Arlington High Schools was one of the most interesting programs sponsored by the club this year.

German Honor Society

Participating in many activities during the year, the German Honor Society encourages its members to broaden their knowledge of German culture and the language. They visited the Bavarian Restaurant, "Old Europe," and met other German clubs to combine activities and interests. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Dilger, the German Honor Society, although small, is one of Wakefield's most enthusiastic groups.

Latin Honor Society Goes Roman

Ann Goodpaster, Treasurer; Jerry Grossman, President; Jerry Voss, Vice President; Suzi Carpenter, Secretary.

Sponsored by Mrs. Helen Fenton, the Latin Honor Society has created interesting and unusual activities which have been enjoyed by the club members as well as enthusiastic students at Wakefield. Some of the activities engage members in field trips to classical exhibitions. In the fall, the Latin Society held their annual Roman Banquet. The students who attended were required to wear the fashionable togas and eat the Latin food in true Roman style and decor which included reclining at the banquet tables. This annual affair is certainly one which will long be remembered and enthusiastically anticipated.

S.H.S. Members Enjoy Tortillas

Two principle objectives of the Spanish Honor Society are to promote an interest in the Spanish language and culture, and to recognize the high achievement among those students taking Spanish in Wakefield High School. This interest is carried out by participation of students in many varied and interesting activities. The Honor Society hopes to visit the Spanish Embassy, the Pan American Union and a Spanish restaurant. They also plan to attend several concerts and movies. To gain greater knowledge of the Spanish culture, the society will listen to several guest speakers who are citizens of or have lived in Spanish-speaking countries. These annual trips and speakers not only give the club members a chance to sample the Spanish food, but also contribute to pleasure for the members of this society.

Thespians Always Act on Cue

A dramatic honor society, the National Thespian Society recognizes those students with a particular talent in the field of dramatics. The society has as guests at its meetings, speakers, actors and drama critics. The biggest activity is the task of helping with the Fall and Spring plays. Once again the Thespians have been of service not only to the Drama Department, but to the school and community as well.

Thespian officers lead other members of the troupe in fall inductions.

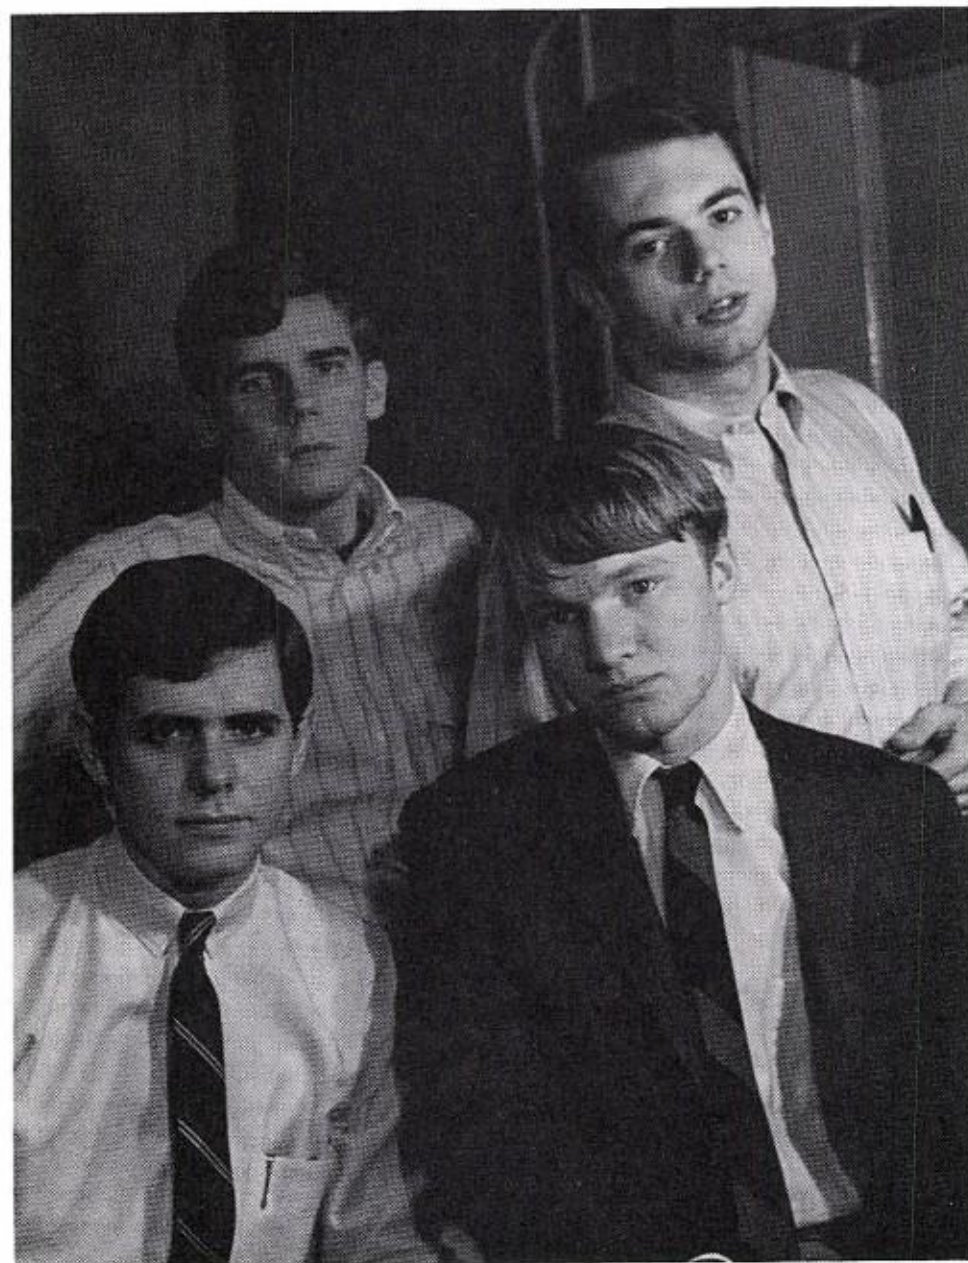

Thespian members Roger Coles and Jan Nessler participate in fall play.

Starstone:

Under the guidance of editor Sue Spiker and sponsor Mrs. Elizabeth Jacks, the 1966 STARSTONE staff strove to maintain the standards of excellence achieved by last year's yearbook. The Staff was divided into various sections including faculty, class, sports, activities, clubs, and photography. These students worked diligently to meet each deadline, although the main goal was set for March 15 when the entire STARSTONE was completed. The staff endeavored to convey its theme of the "66" annual: Seasons. Picturing students and their various activities throughout the fall, winter, and spring, the STARSTONE reflected the high standards of Wakefield. For the second year the "66" STARSTONE awarded students whose loyalty and contributions to Wakefield were frequently unnoticed. These recipients of the award were chosen by the faculty through the process of nomination, consideration of the nominees, and finally voting. It is hoped that all who read the 1966 STARSTONE will find it attractive, interesting, and enjoyable and that the high standards witnessed in every phase of Wakefield life are seen in the quality of the yearbook.

Signal Provides

Wakefield's newspaper, The Signal, is designed to inform the student body on the activities and accomplishments of Wakefield students. Sponsored by Mrs. Elizabeth Jacks, the Signal is published and sent out to the student body every two weeks. In order to receive the Signal, Wakefield students must have paid their class dues. After copy is written and checked, the pages are sent to the offices of the Arlington Suburban Leader, where they are printed and sent back to school. Pendulum Encourages Literary Talent

"John, no more calls, we have a winner!" Miss Crawford and John Carroll read student entries for the annual Pendulum Prose and Poetry Contest.

Just as a swinging pendulum covers a broad area, Wakefield's literary magazine, the Pendulum, covers a wide field of creative writing. Designed to reflect the thoughts and emotions of the students of Wakefield and to acknowledge creative talent, the Pendulum encourages each Warrior to contribute poetry, criticism, book reviews, essays, creative prose, or short stories. The staff carefully reads and considers each contribution. Even those which they feel cannot be used are given individual attention. Staff members write a criticism for each contribution to show the author his weakness and encourage him to write again.

Each student who works on the Pendulum gains experience in editing and planning layouts for a magazine. In the spring, work is also done with budgeting, sales, and distribution. Along with Pendulum members, students from English classes are selected to help with money collection and distribution throughout their classes.

The Pendulum is produced in collaboration with the Art Department. The advanced art students and art staff work closely with the Pendulum members in designing and arranging the layouts and illustrations for the cover and each page of the magazine.

The Pendulum belongs to Wakefield because each writing and each illustration reflects the emotions, anxieties, and thoughts existing throughout the student body.

The Pendulum staff members: Jean Derryberry, Carol Burroughs, Rena Yount, John Carroll, Claudia Burroughs, Cheryl Burroughs, Jim Butler.

Quill and Scroll of Publications

Spending many extra hours working on the publications of Wakefield High School, the Quill and Scroll is an inactive society, meeting only to initiate new members and to elect their new officers. The Quill and Scroll is composed of members working on the STARSTONE, Signal, and Pendulum who have contributed to the publications of Wakefield. Members require a recommendation from the sponsor of their publication.

Art Honor Society Sketches On

Bulletin boards and show cases are some of the activities done by the Art Honor Society. These members are very talented and they have taken several years of art offered at school. The Art Honor Society furthers and utilizes their interest in artistic service to the school. This year the Art Honor Society has contributed a great deal to the members of this society and to Wakefield High School.

Wakefield's Independent Party

WIP, the Wakefield Independent Party, is in its third year and has continued its success in Wakefield politics by having overwhelmingly won the majority of seats in the SCA fall elections. As an outstanding contributor to the SCA in legislation and organization, this dynamic party has continued its tradition of responsive student representation. The party held bi-weekly open meetings for all interested students. WIP has introduced and passed such legislation as cold water in the boy's locker room, SCA sponsorship of Wakefield Day, and Senators' baseball tickets at a discount. They also supported the girl's Powder Puff football game. This important party has certainly made a good and lasting name for itself under the leadership of Pete Wade and Terry Epperson, with the sponsorship of Miss Barker. Their slogan "willing, interested, progressive . . . we try harder" has been their ticket to success this year and will be for many more years to come.

Pete Wade seems to pick the criminal from the lineup as Terry Epperson looks on.

USIL

USIL is the oldest established political party in Wakefield and it welcomes any student who is interested in school politics and tradition. USIL, the United Students Improvement League, has always had a good representation in the SCA and has introduced sound, important legislation. One of their main projects was the promotion of school spirit in the Secret Student Contest.

Guides

One of Wakefield's most notable organizations is the Wakefield Guides Association. Guides is a group of select students who are chosen on the basis of high scholastic standards, good conduct, school spirit and poise. Their duty is one of public relations for they must make a good impression on American and foreign visitors. Under the direction of Mr. Blue and Mrs. Williams, they also provide ushering services at various school functions such as "Back to School Night," the Christmas Concert, Baccalaureate, and Commencement.

Choir Group: Sound Of Music

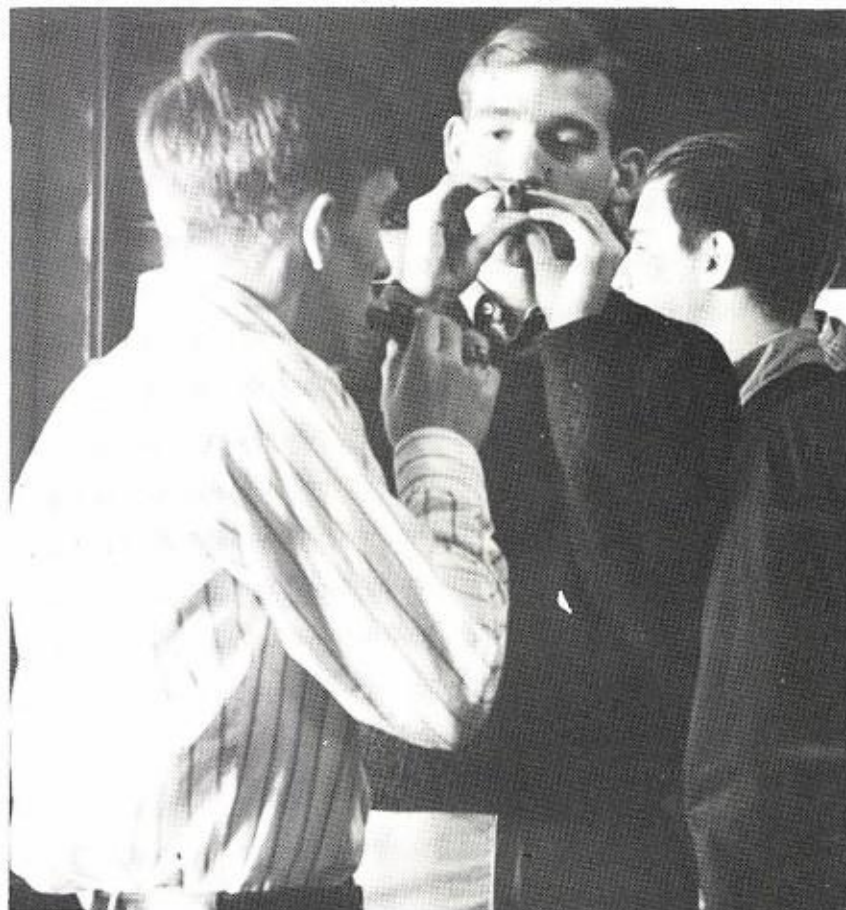

Bill Payton looks with awe and amazement as he hears a flat note.

One hundred seventeen students made up the Wakefield Choir for the school year 1965-66. This is the largest auditioned group the music department has accepted in the history of the group. All of the students have had from one to seven years of previous training in singing choral literature before coming to this group. This year there were three major evening concerts. They were the Pops Concert in the fall, and the Christmas and Spring Concerts. Assemblies were performed on all division levels, and for the entire school. Our choir made guest performances in area churches, and was the nucleus of Wakefield's Festival Chorus, which had three hundred seventy-two members this year. Two section leaders for each section helped to develop the sections (soprano, alto, tenor and bass) into a strong, forceful unit. This was brought about by special rehearsals within sections before school in the morning. Bill Ingram, Choir president, oversees all business of the Choir. Two fine accompanists, Earlie Hargrove and Tom Berrymore, assist the Choir at rehearsals and all concerts.

Wakefield Singers Display Talents

Formed in 1955, the Wakefield Singers are a highly selective choral group whose members are chosen by competitive audition from the members of the Wakefield Choir. The Wakefield Singers consist of sixteen girls and fourteen boys. These Juniors and Seniors must have unusual talent and interest in the field of choral music, and must be able to read and interpret advanced choral literature. The main function of the group is to represent the Wakefield Choir where it is impractical to take a large assembly. Under the direction of Mrs. Krout, the Wakefield Singers have performed extremely well. They have performed in area church worship services, Senate Offices, school assemblies, and Christmas and Spring Concerts. These students volunteer much of their time learning and practicing their diction, intonation, and phrasing.

Mixed Chorus Shows Interest in Music

Members of the Mixed Chorus harmonize for their professional effects.

If size means quality performance, the Mixed Chorus should take the prize for volume because it boasts 160 members. Having been in existence for seven years, the Wakefield Mixed Chorus has made it possible for students of all three grades to train and perfect vocal techniques and to acquaint themselves with choral procedures. Most choral members are later promoted to the choir, Girls' Chorus, or Wakefield Singers. Students during the year are introduced to numerous musical periods and cultures, including early secular, contemporary and classical music as well as folk songs and modern show tunes. The Mixed Chorus gave Wakefield High School the great pleasure of being able to listen to the degree of perfection of the many different arrangements given by the chorus. Throughout the year, the students perform at school assemblies, working frequently with the other choral groups. Under the direction of Mrs. Krout, the Mixed Chorus has performed at the Christmas Concert and will perform at the Spring Concert.

Girls' Chorus Hits A High Note

Girls' Chorus is made up of girls from all three grade levels of Wakefield. Mrs. Krout spends much time in voice lessons and class style. These girls receive daily training including correct breathing and diction instruction. The girls receive literature beginning with early church music down to the contemporary composers. The Girls' Chorus provides both a cultural outlet and a means of self-expression. Its purpose is to allow musically inclined students to perform a variety of types of music and to train in vocal skills. The Girls' Chorus has been included in various Music Department programs such as the Thanksgiving and Christmas Concerts. This Spring the chorus will present their annual Spring Concert. The Girls' Chorus has given Wakefield many years of their talents and we hope that they will continue to give this school examples of their service and talent.

Members of the Girls' Chorus listen intently to Mrs. Krout's instructions.

Orchestra Presents Variety of Music

Nancy Culbertson fiddles a tune with a knowing smile on her face.

Wakefield's Orchestra provides opportunities for students to perform significant music of various periods and cultures. The Orchestra's excellence comes from the devotion of its conductor, Mr. Krasney. Every year this harmonious group grows in size with the many talented students who enjoy music and play instruments. The group performs for annually scheduled assemblies—Thanksgiving, Christmas, and others for the various divisions at Wakefield. The Spring Concert in May marks the climax of the orchestra's accomplishments in music. The Commencement or Baccalureate is the group's concluding public performance. The Wakefield Orchestra has received unanimous superior ratings at the various festivals in which it has participated. One of the main objectives of the orchestra is to offer a variety of music appealing to all tastes which at the same time will be educationally and artistically stimulating.

Band: Performance of Music

Boasting a large membership, the Wakefield Band has upheld Wakefield's reputation for excellence in the field of music. The Band acquaints its members with a wide variety of styles of music while emphasizing a high standard of musical performance. By actually participating in the band activities, the students gain not only the experience of discipline necessary to group performances, but also a greater appreciation of music which they may use and enjoy throughout their later years. The Wakefield Concert Band provides a great number of opportunities for the student body, faculty, and others. During its twelve-year history, the group has performed for a wide range of functions, including Wakefield assemblies, programs at neighboring Junior High Schools, PTA meetings, and a variety of civil projects. This year the Band will participate in the annual District Music Festival where it has consistently received "superior" and "excellent" ratings. Throughout the years, students express growing desires to continue with music as a vocation or a hobby, while others gain training for future participation in a larger outside band. Students become acquainted with a variety of musical styles while developing a high standard of musical performance.

Reserve Band

Under the direction of Mr. Gerald M. Lewis, the Reserve Band has participated in various festivals and concerts. Among other events, the Reserve Band has participated in the annual Christmas Festival with the entire music department at Wakefield. It has also performed in a Winter Concert, the District Music Festival, and the Spring Band Concert. The forty-five-member Reserve Band has the same goals as that of the more advanced concert band. This band is a training group in which the technical fundamentals of the player are carefully considered. The great stress is placed on the individual's performance and improvement as well as group playing.

AFS Sparks During Abroad Program

Karin performs a Thai dance which she learned last summer in Raiburi.

AFS, The American Field Service Program, is an experience in international understanding. This program provides the American student, as well as students of foreign countries, with an opportunity to expand and broaden their knowledge. A student must live and learn through experience to understand a foreign country. One of the many activities of the American Field Service is the conducting of the Americans Abroad Program which sends American students to foreign countries during the summer months or during the school year. This year, Wakefield had the privilege of participating in the AFS program. Erin Aspell of New Zealand spent the '65-'66 school years observing the students of Wakefield. During her stay here, Erin stayed with Heidi Sparkes and her family. Karin Johnson was fortunate to be sent to Raiburi, Thailand, during the summer of '65.

Majorettes Kick High This Season

Our high-kicking, snappy-strutting Majorettes, led by tri-captains Joyce Hinkle, Gail Richardson and Brenda Hackney, enjoyed another successful season. The members are now proudly showing off their new eye-catching and colorful green-and-white uniforms. All this was made possible by hard work from these Wakefield girls. The Majorettes practice together after school and with the marching band under the direction of Mr. Gerald Lewis. Much time is spent in practicing baton twirling, flags, or flaming batons on parade routes and at football games during half-time. No football game would be complete without a half-time performance from the Majorettes. And with the co-operative motto "Practice makes Perfect" and their creative routines, the Majorettes are the pride of every football fan. The Majorettes perform with such originality, beauty, pride, and skill that no Warrior will ever forget them.

The Solid Gold Cadillac

Under the direction of Mrs. Mora Shell, Wakefield's drama department presented "The Solid Gold Cadillac" in November. The two-act play, written by Howard Terchman and George S. Kaufman, starred Patty Van Winkle as Mrs. Partridge and Randy Nessler as "Big Ed" McKeever. Narrated in fairy tale form, the play involved the rise of a little old lady, aided by an industrious businessman, to the top of a multi-zillion dollar corporation. When the naive spinster, Mrs. Partridge, enters big business, the corporation directors try to cover up their swindlings by giving her the non-existent job of "Stockholders Relations Director." Mrs. Partridge's sincerity soon gains the confidence of many stockholders. "Big Ed" McKeever helps Mrs. Partridge expose the swindling corporation directors and soon the nasty old directors are fired.

The board of directors cast included Buzz Christianson, William Newman, Roger Coles, and Richard Rivera. Other cast members included Alex Linsay as mail clerk, B. J. Lilly as a secretary and Jan Nessler as an advertising model.

Coordinator of the show was Linda Lydon, aided by Colonel Reed.

A YEAR OF ACHIEVEMENT

Throughout the year, Wakefield's clubs have played an active role in student life. Fall through spring, students were given an opportunity to develop their interests. Getting off to a good start, club officers attended a training weekend. Though learning about parliamentary procedure was the main objective, the group found time to enjoy themselves. The enthusiasm of Wakefield's clubs was not affected by the cold weather. Generously filling the Christmas baskets, club members showed their genuine concern for others. Ending the year on a good note, the clubs displayed their talents in the annual Service Club Sing.

Members of the Service Club Council, consisting of one representative from each service club, coordinate activities of the clubs and see that these activities promote service for the school and the community.

To begin the year, the Council sponsored the annual Service Club mixer. At this time, the various clubs displayed some of their plans and projects for the year.

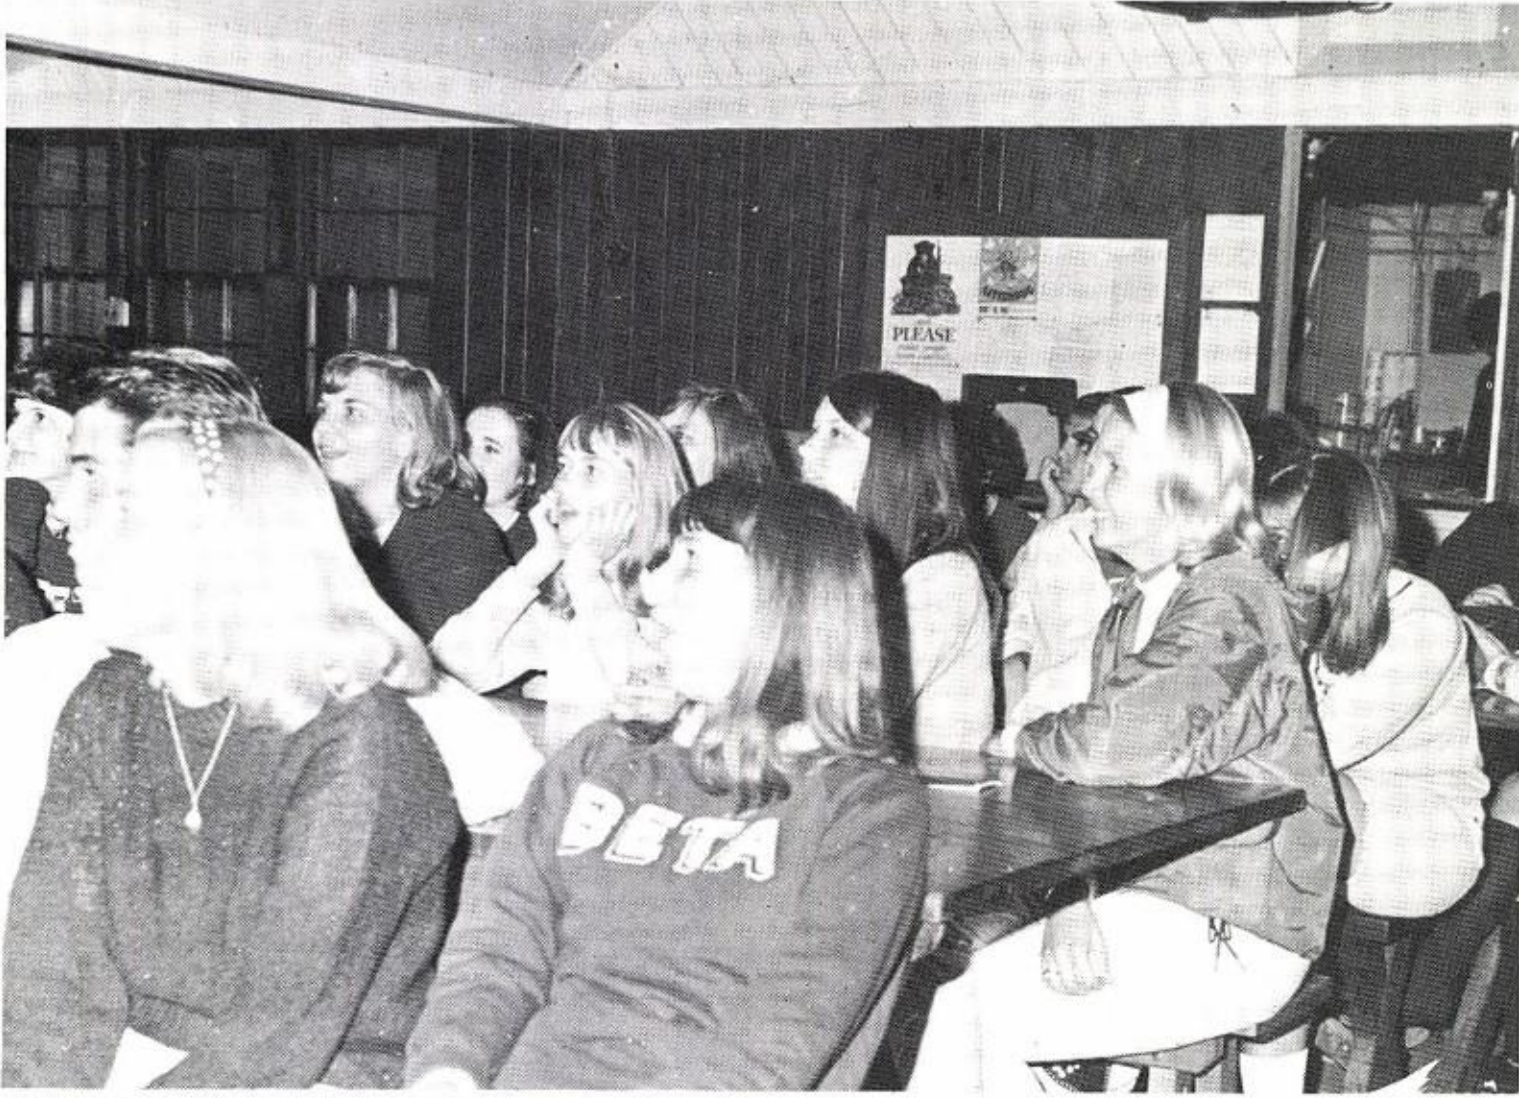

In October, the Council held an Officers Training Weekend at Prince Williams Forest. This provided the officers of all the clubs with helpful suggestions.

The annual Christmas Basket Contest was sponsored by the Council in December. The food, toys, and other gifts collected by the Service Clubs was given to the Salvation Army to distribute among needy families in the area.

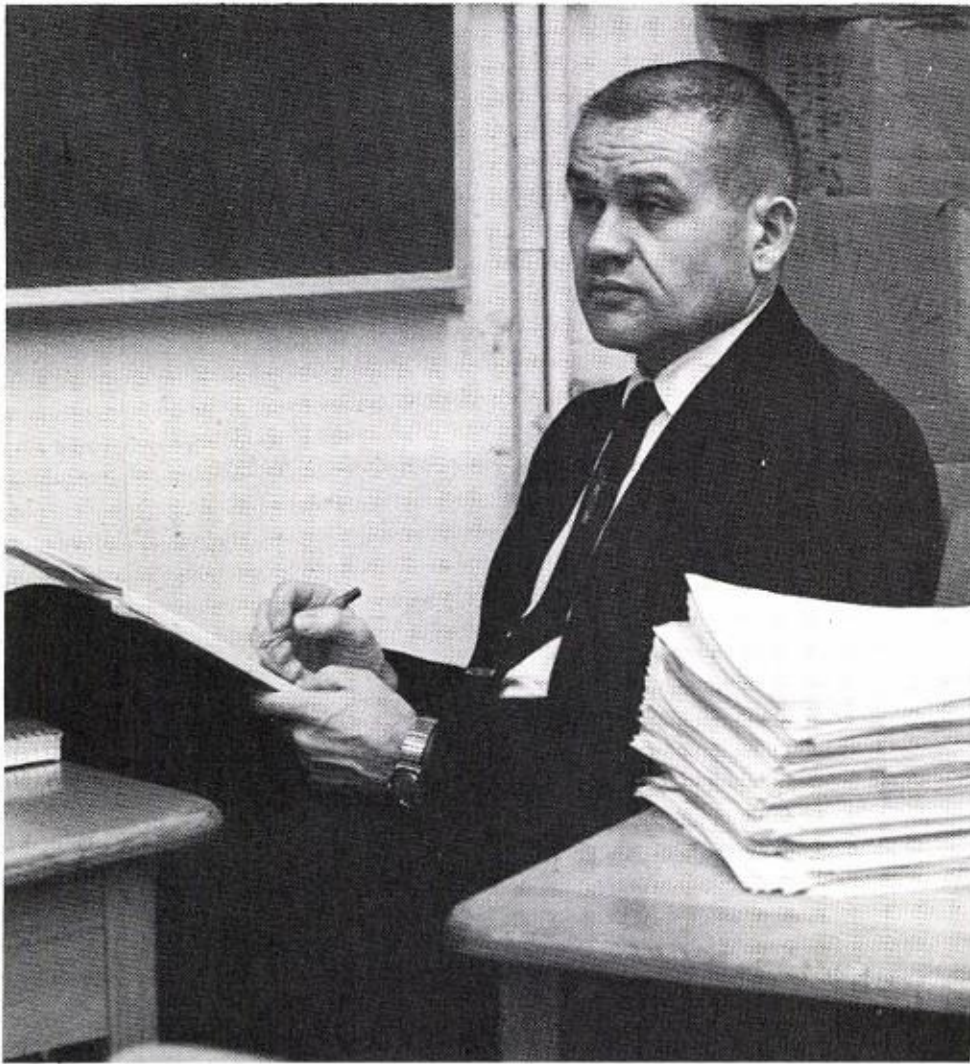

School-wide Cleanup Day held by the Service Club Council was a successful project which involved all clubs in doing jobs around the school.

In April, the Council held the Service Club Sing Contest. This provided another project of competition among the clubs.

By being active this year, the Council has given the Service Clubs leadership in planning projects of service for the school and the community.

Several times during the year the girls went to entertain the children and to work with them. They also earned money to donate to the Children's Hospital. The club got off to a good start and hopes to continue next year.

As President, Eve Bottorff contemplates her fate as the work mounts up.

Tau Service Club played an important role at Wakefield this year. It was solely a senior girls' club with very active and hard-working members. Tau had its annual float in the W-L pep rally and sponsored the Ugly Man Contest and Dance. To help liven up the classrooms, the girls decorated the bulletin boards, a project initiated this year.

Keyettes is a national honor service club whose members are chosen as a result of their signs of initiative and potential leadership. During the year, the girls collected for various charities and gave their annual party at St. Elizabeth's. A highlight of the year is always the fashion show held in the spring when the girls model the latest styles. Nationally, Keyettes has supported the Peace Corps and in one year has built two schools in a poverty-stricken country.

Key Club Gives Press Box New Face

Brother club to the Keyettes, the Key Club is the boys' honor service club of Wakefield. Inspired by last year's Chad Mitchell Trio Concert, the boys planned another exciting show this year. The club also painted the press box and other parts of the school, as well as promoting school spirit with posters for all the Wakefield football games.

Chemical Society

All students interested in chemistry are eligible to be members of the Wakefield Chemical Society. Through the Chemical Society, the members increase their knowledge and interest in chemistry. This year, the group conducted various experiments in the lab. They had many outstanding speakers from the field of chemistry at their monthly meetings.

Rocket Society

Wakefield's nationally recognized Rocket Society, under the guidance of Mr. Wynn, has prompted interest in three major fields: Astronomy, Electronics, and Rocketry. In an effort to gain added knowledge of radio communications, the electronics division improved and expanded the Society's amateur radio.

“Le Circle Francais” Visits French Embassy

Every meeting and project of “Le Circle Francais” bubbled with activity as French knowledge was enhanced with American enthusiasm. Throughout the year, members had an opportunity to explore French culture and to improve their understanding and fluency of the French language. The meetings were highlighted by a slate of guest speakers, French films, and field trips to the French embassy and a French restaurant.

Spanish Club Studies Spanish Culture

This year the Spanish Club has been an extremely active group. Its purpose is to investigate and enjoy the varied cultural interests of Latin America and Spain. This is accomplished through dinners, movies and lecturers. One of the outstanding events of the year was a reception for Latin-American educators who were visiting Washington.

Claremont Welcomes Wakefield's F.T.A.

F.T.A. is proud of its title as the only professional club at Wakefield. The members study the basics to successful teaching through trips to educational programs and listening to various lecturers. The participants are fortunate to have the opportunity to aid in the Claremont Assistant Program by forfeiting a study hall or extra time after school.

The Rescue Squad's Purpose Is Aid

Standing by to treat the sick and injured, the Rescue Squad has proven to be a great service to Wakefield. The club provided emergency first aid for students and faculty at athletic events, fire and civil defense drills, and whenever the occasion arose. They concluded the year with the annual contest with the W-L Rescue Squad.

Debate Squad

Arguing the topic, "Resolved: The federal government should adopt a program of compulsory arbitration in labor management disputes in basic industry," our Debate Squad experienced an exciting year. Many hours of research went into the finished product, with the affirmative and negative teams developing sound arguments. Skills learned through debating will be valuable to the members in future years.

Art Club

Wakefield's Art Club was formed in order to futher the ability of interested art students. This year the group visited the Old Folks Home to decorate for Christmas. Other activities included the Spring Art Club Fair, a group mural, and a visit to the National Gallery of Art.

Dance Club Gives Original Concert

Wakefield's Modern Dance Club is a selective group of talented girls who learn to develop their skill in creative dance. In early fall, the group performed at W-L High School and at a Methodist church on New Year's Eve. Traditionally, the club sells the red Campus Nighties, the talk of the school. The girls compose an original dance concert in the spring to highlight their year.

One need not be an expert photographer to become a member of the Wakefield Photography Club. Its major purpose is to instruct students in photography and in its many phases. The group practices skills in determining light exposure, setting proper shutter speed, and developing exposed film. Projects this year have been filming the Civil Rights demonstrations and selling pictures of school dances.

D. E. Banquets With Employers

Our Distributive Education Club works jointly with the cooperative training programs to enrich the student's school and work activities. Highlights of this year were the state convention held at the Marriot Motor Hotel and the employee-employer banquet. The D.E. club is also involved in district and state contests.

Monogram Club Ushers At Games

Membership in the Wakefield Monogram Club is open to athletes and cheerleaders who have received a varsity letter for achievement.

This year the Monogram Club served the school by monitoring the halls and lunches, selling concessions and programs at football games, forming a pep club at basketball games and buying blazers for varsity athletes to wear while traveling.

Skiing Comes To Wakefield

Members of the Wakefield Ski Association, under the direction of Mr. John Ponis, were given the opportunity to see films, take trips to local ski areas, and participate in activities sponsored by other ski clubs. Since this was the club's first year, most of the time was spent in organization; however, next year they plan to take more advantage of the benefits offered by the sport.

Chess Club Checkmates Generals

Under the direction of Mr. Richard Tarravechia, the Chess Club enjoyed one of its most successful years. Meetings were held regularly every Monday so that members could sharpen their chess skills for their monthly matches in the highly competitive Northern Virginia Chess Club League. One of the highlights of the year was an upset of archrival and highly rated W-L in early February.

V. O. T. Explores the Business World

The Vocational Office Training Club is set up to help students choose a career in the business field. By working, the students learn to accept responsibility. This year the two main events sponsored by the club were the Open House in the fall for the students and their parents and the Employee-Employer Banquet.

Front Row: Miss Bette Browning, Sponsor; Rick Christiansen, President; Joanne Kendall, Treasurer. Row 2: Shelby Greenhill, Recording Secretary; Charles Malz, Vice President.

A YEAR OF ACHIEVEMENT

With traditional spirit and ability, Wakefield's athletic teams participated in another memorable year of sports. Fall brought excitement and victory to Wakefield as the Warriors compiled impressive records in football, soccer, and cross country. Winter found the Warriors indoors as they showed their stuff in basketball, wrestling, and gymnastics. Spring saw the baseball team climbing back into their uniforms, tennis balls bouncing on the courts and trackmen on the turf, off to another successful season. Thus to every season there is a sport. The seasons are over, so is the year, but memories race on and on toward new seasons in years to come.

Cheerleaders Add Sparkle To Games

Kathy Cullers shows the agony of defeat a cheerleader must face now and then.

With shouts of "Victory, Victory" ringing through the football stadium and gym and a whirling of green-and-white uniforms, the Varsity and Junior Varsity Cheerleaders lead the crowd to yell for their team.

A cheerleader's job is to help promote spirit and pride in the school by inducing the crowd to yell at basketball and football games. They also advertise athletic events by wearing their uniforms and by making posters. The big W-L pep rally in the fall is led by both squads of cheerleaders. Before the W-L football game the cheerleaders try to promote the observance of a silence day by the whole student body.

This year the cheerleaders had a tough job due to poor crowd participation, but the girls succeeded in bettering school spirit despite the odds. The cheerleaders showed the spectators that it is when one's team is losing that school spirit counts the most.

Warriors Are Second In District

An official explains an infraction to Warrior co-captains Larry Funkhouser and Steve Butler and to the Yorktown captain.

Lucky Gant, Wakefield's All-State candidate, converts another of his many extra points in the Hammond game. The Warriors won.

Wakefield's high-flying Warriors got off to a shaky start by losing to the George Washington Presidents 14-13, and the Mclean Highlanders 20-19, but from that point on they were unbeatable.

In their second game the Warriors shut out the Groveton Tigers 21-0, with some fine running.

Then Yorktown found that they, too, could not stop the Warriors' winning ways, as they lost 14-0.

The following week Wakefield challenged and defeated the Mt. Vernon Colonials, 21-6.

The Warriors this year notched their second jug in their series with Hammond, 27-14.

Next the Warriors came home to try to recapture the District Championship, but were unable to down the Marshall Statesmen and had to settle for a 7-7 tie.

Then the important, long-awaited game—the Wakefield-WL game!! After a well-attended pep rally, the Warriors took the field the next night at W-L and defeated their arch rivals 14-2.

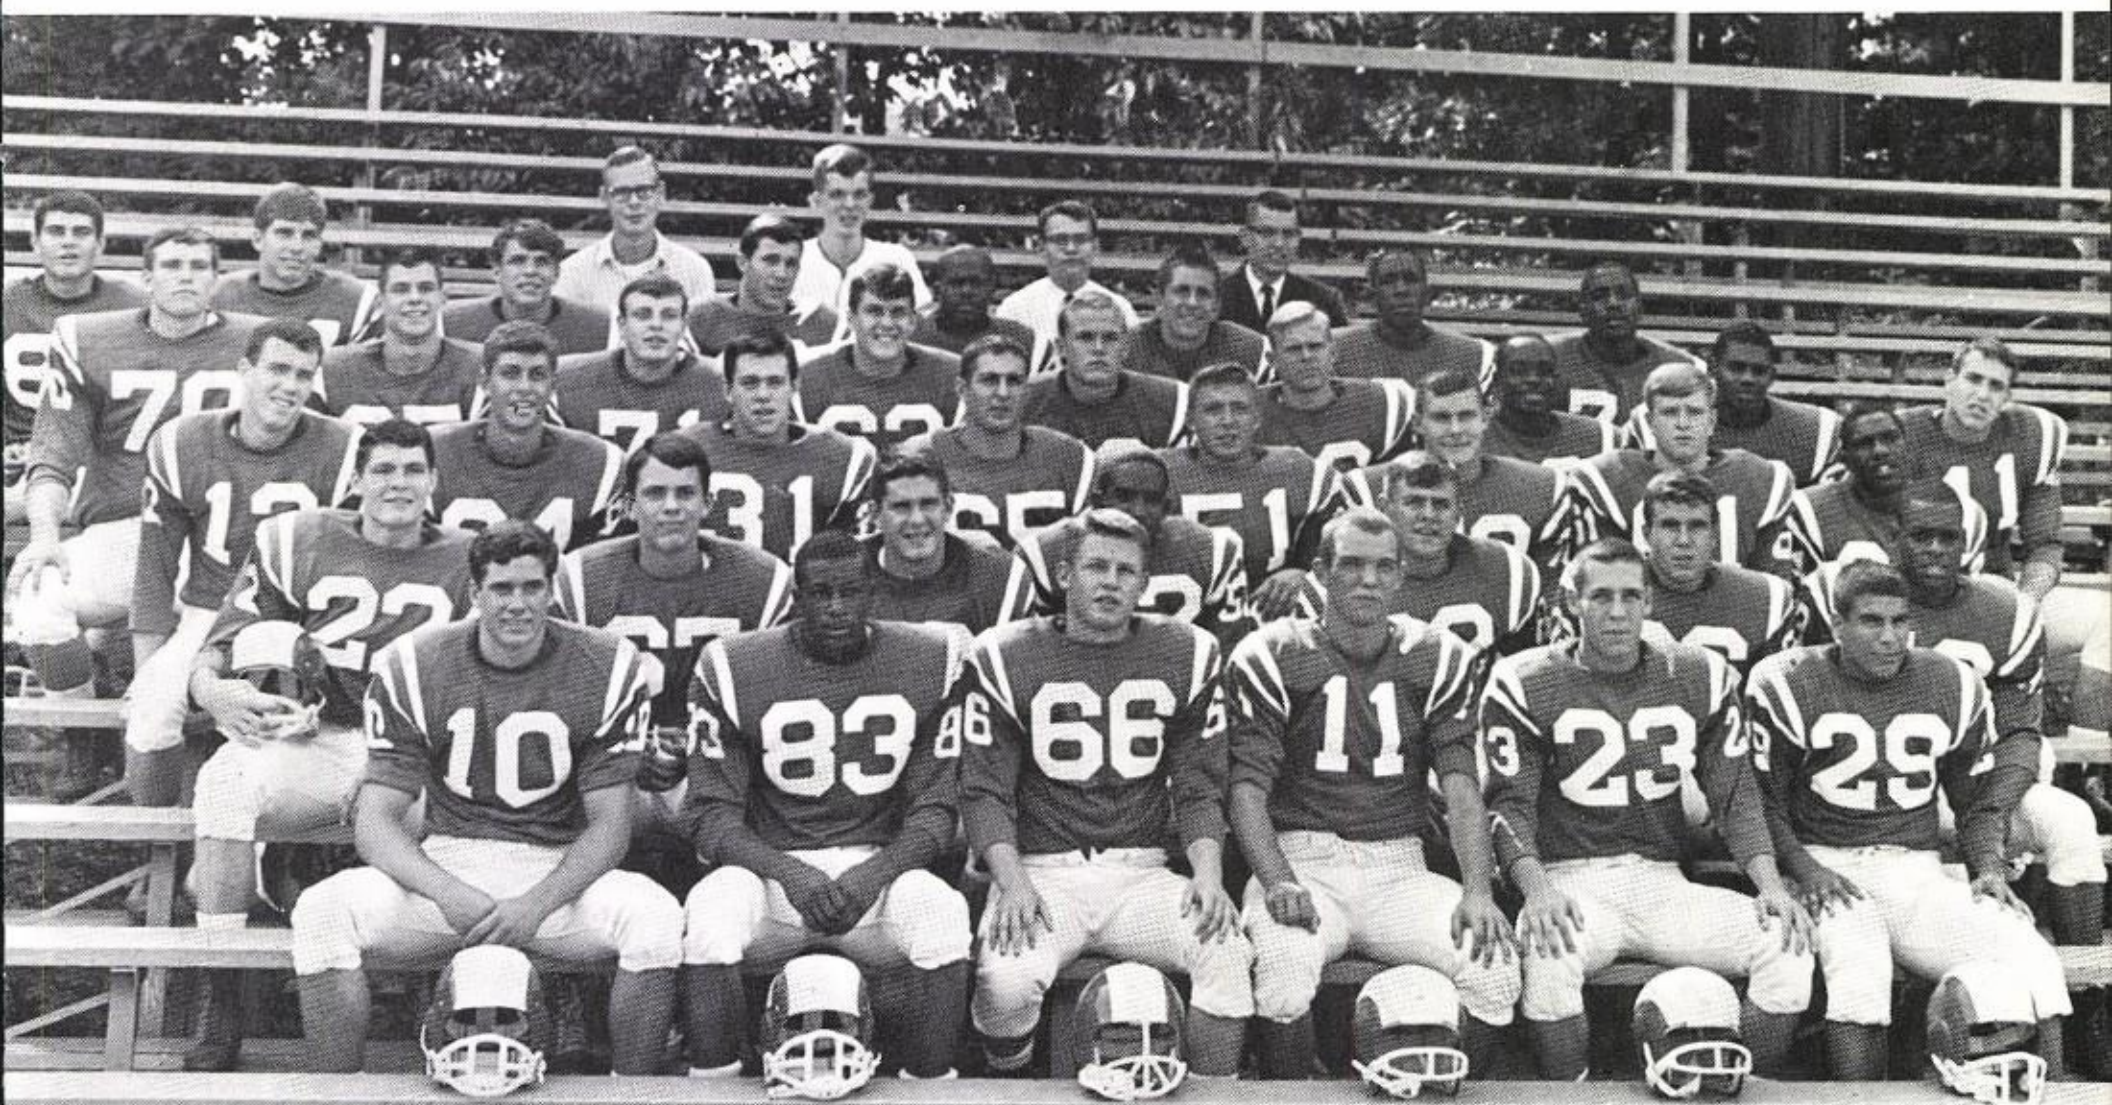

Though hope for the championship was gone, the Warriors met and defeated District Champion, Stuart, 13-8.

Finally during Homecoming weekend the Warriors took on Fort Hunt, the Alexandria District Champions, and defeated them in the last minute with a fine field goal, 10-7.

Thus the Warriors ended a fine season by placing second in the newly formed Potomac District.

Steve Paschal (11) checks downfield for a receiver during the Hammond game. Steve Butler (40) and William Essex (62) stay back to block.

Wakefield quarterback Steve Paschal heads around his right end en route to a 27-yard touchdown run in the third quarter of the Hammond game.

Quarterback Steve Paschal sets to throw during the Stuart game. Paschal connected on 15 of 22 passes for the night as Wakefield rallied for a 18-13 win.

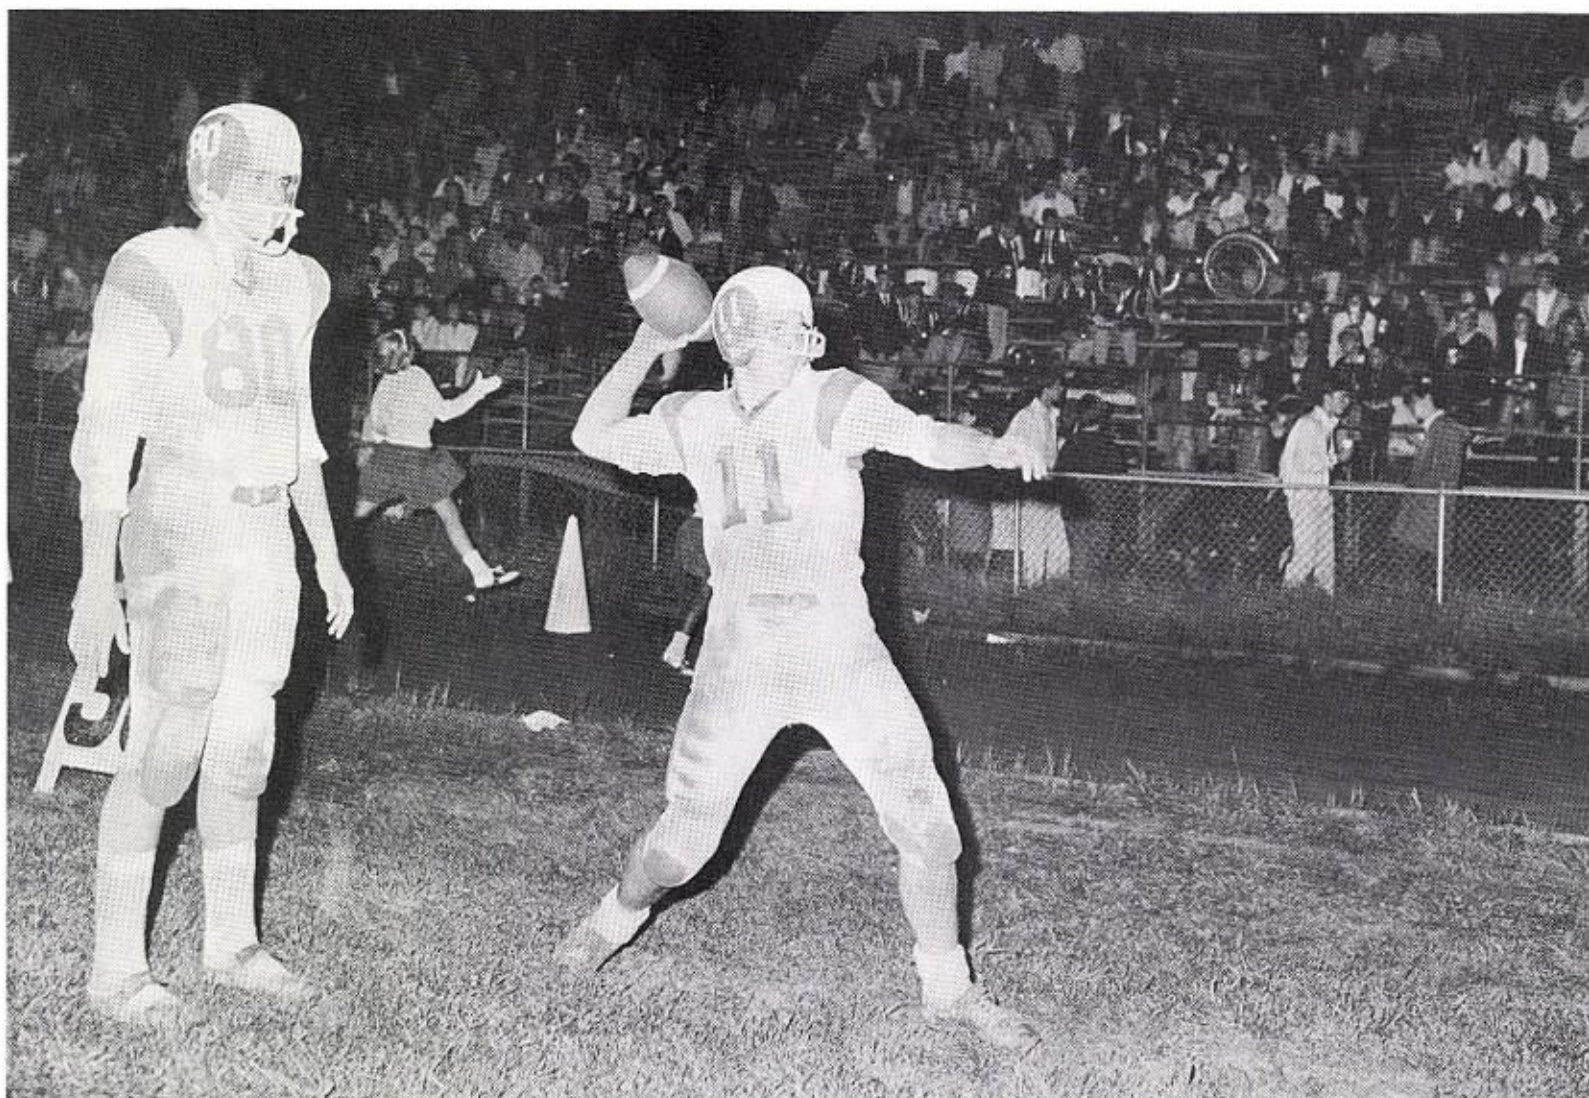

The Green and White offensive line squares up against a rugged McLean defense as the Warriors drive for another touchdown in their second game.

Mike Kirkham rises to the occasion and blocks a W-L punt attempt as middle linebacker Tom Hostetler (63) peels back to help his teammate.

Fine Individual Performances Haile

Quarterback Steve Paschal sets to throw during Stuart game. Paschal connected on 15 of 22 passes for the night as Wakefield rallied for 13-8 win.

Wakefield's Varsity Football squad was aided this season in its drive for second place in the district by some fine performances that were hailed throughout the league.

Lucky Gant was named to represent Wakefield on the All-Metropolitan first team, chosen by all the area sports writers, and was also named to the All-Potomac league first team. Lucky, at the season's end, was considered for the All-State Team. Lucky's running was fabulous at all games and he was number two in the area in over-all points accumulated.

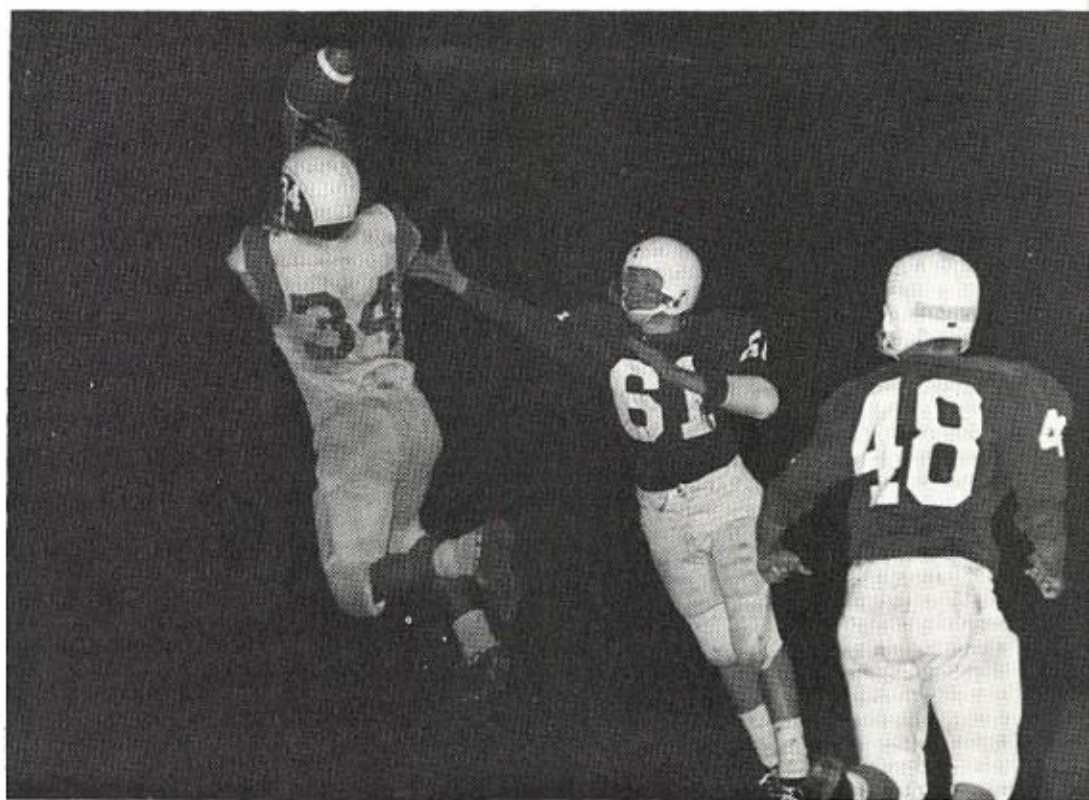

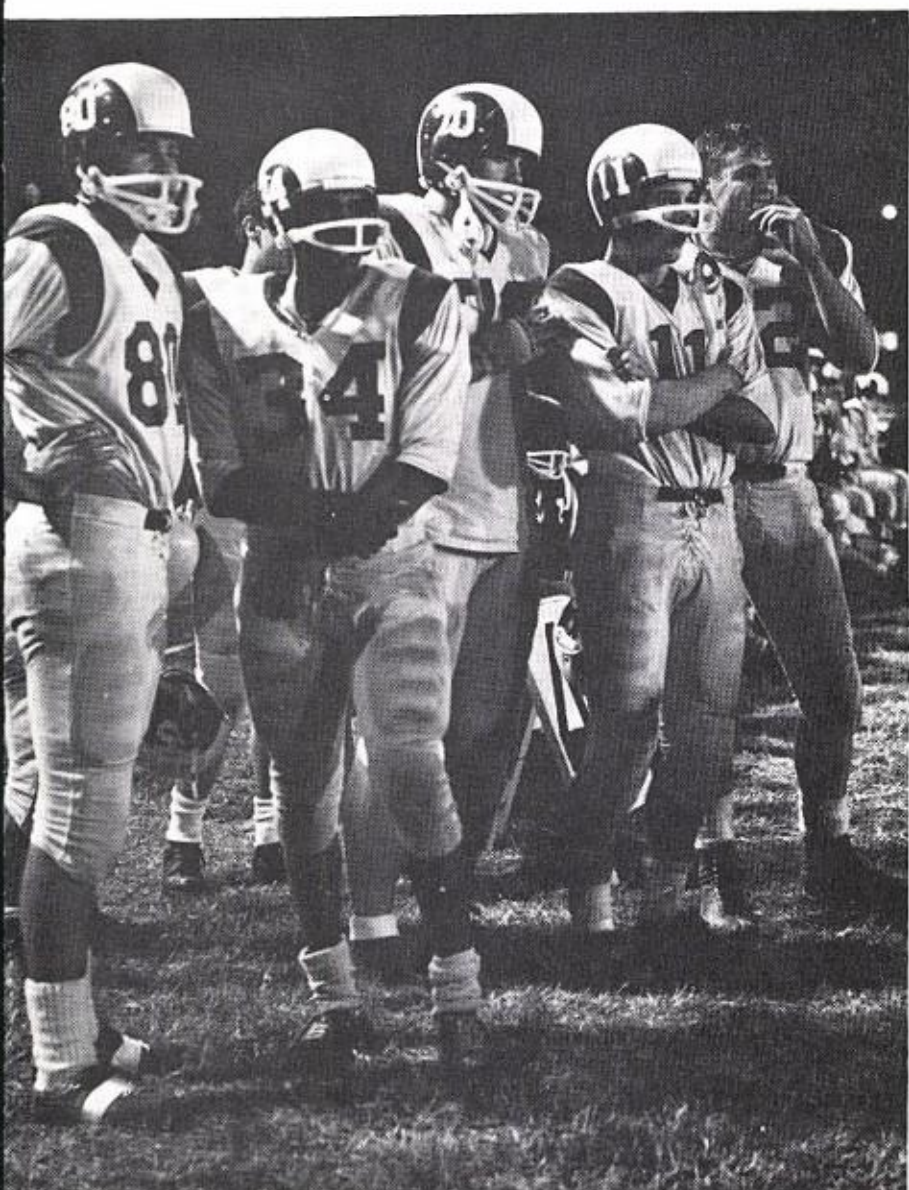

Another outstanding member of the squad was Larry Funkhouser. Although injured at the beginning of the season, he turned in a fine running performance in the backfield and was named to the All-Potomac league team.

One of the football team's fine running juniors, Yancy Phillips, was also named to the All-Potomac team.

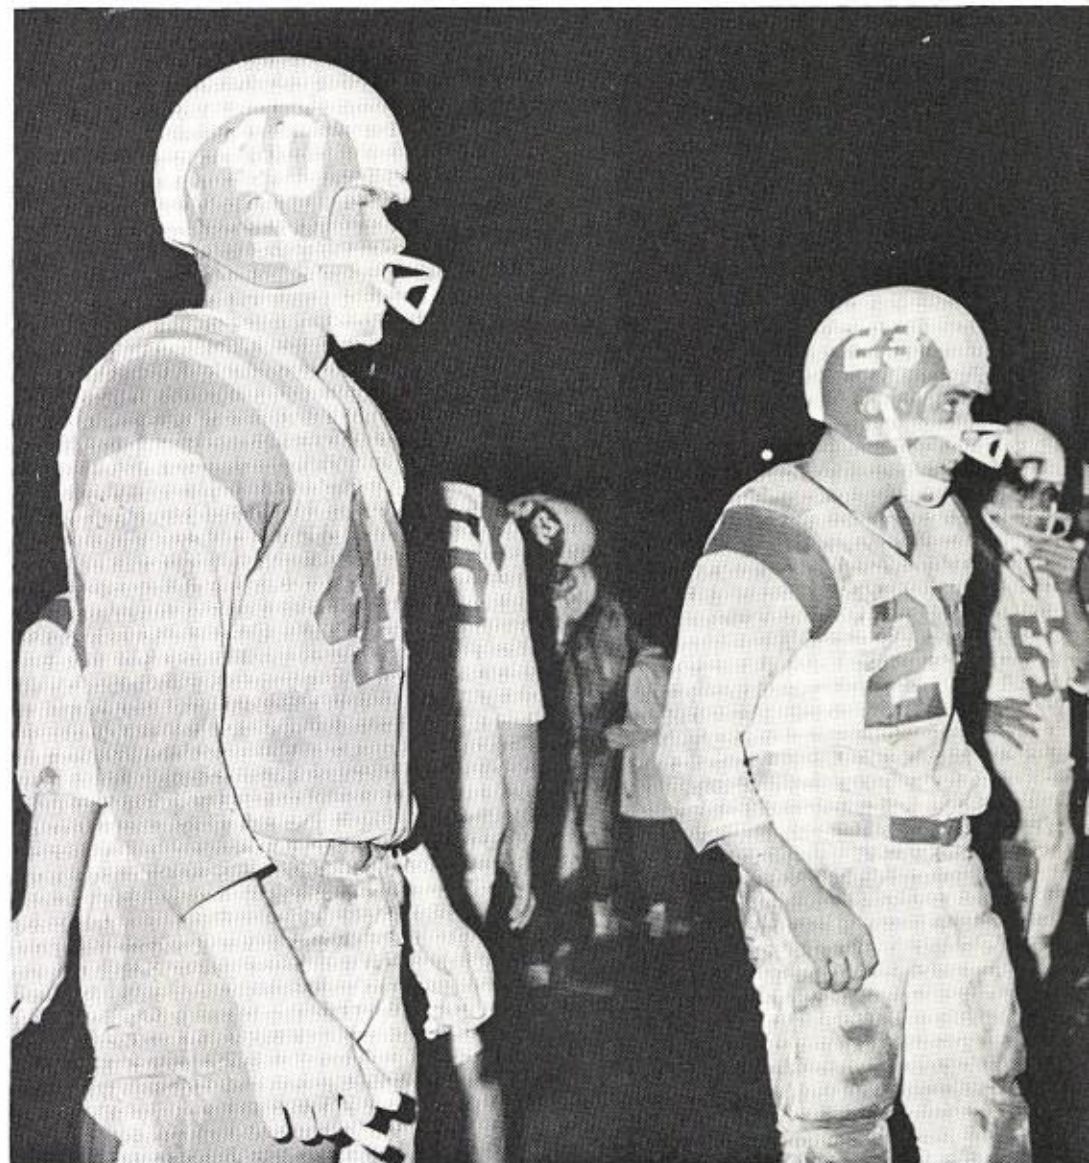

Thus, with the outstanding records turned in by these well-trained players, Wakefield easily captured second place in the Potomac District and its players were hailed as some of the best in the state.

JV Has Disappointing Season

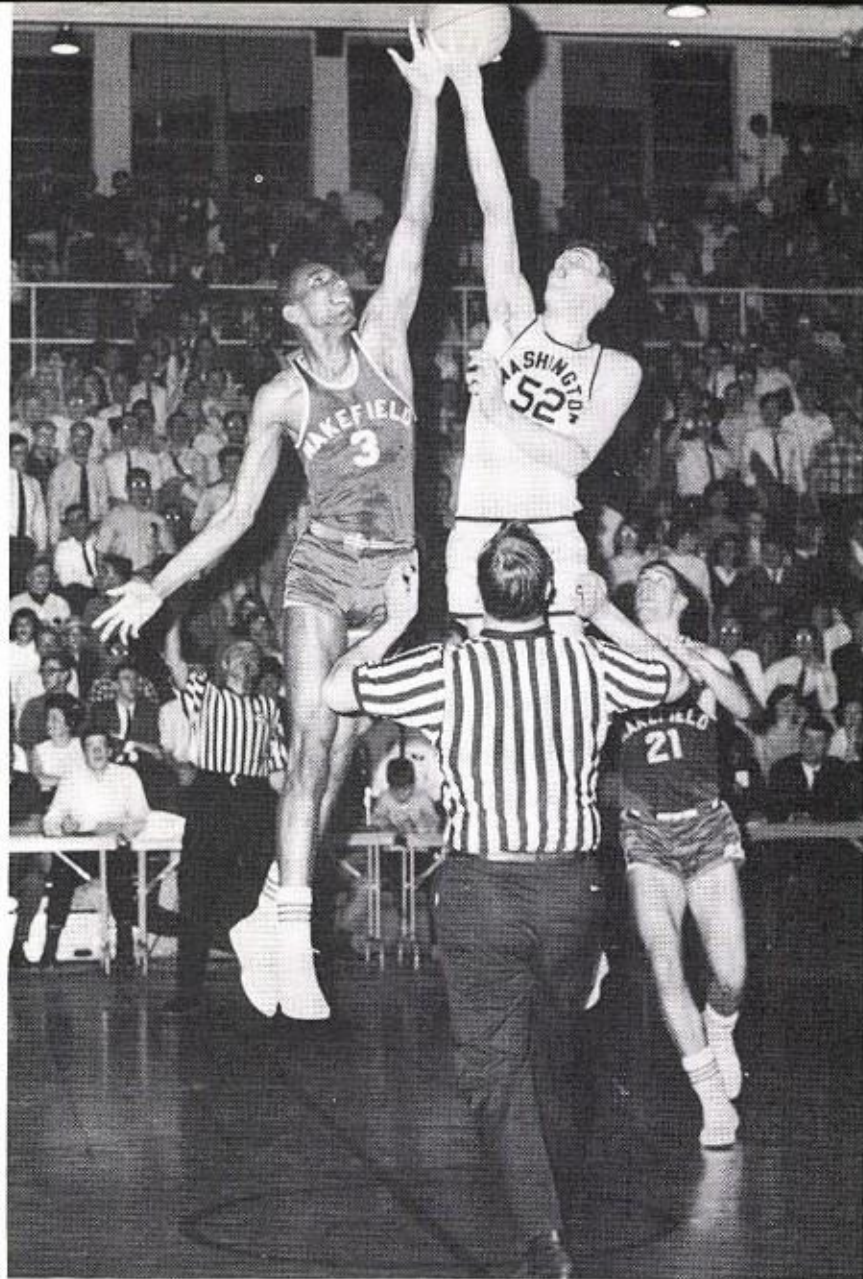

After taking the first two games of their season, the faltering Junior Varsity lost all the rest of their games. The Baby Warriors got off to a good start by thumping the Mclean JV 20-0. The Groveton Tigers were their next victims, and the JV defeated them soundly, 14-0. Their next game was with Yorktown, which started a losing streak, as they dropped a heartbreaker 14-12. The Junior Varsity took on the Mt. Vernon and Hammond JV squads, respectively, and lost by identical scores of 13-7. The Baby Warriors lost to Marshall by fumbling to a 25-12 defeat. The Warriors then took on arch-rivals W-L and lost 14-6. The Warriors ended the season by losing to the Stuart JV and closed out the season with a 2-6 record.

Mike Tixier shows the strength and ability of a top-notch back, as he advances the ball for extra yardage during the W-L game, which Wakefield lost.

"We Warriors would rather fight than switch!" declares Ulysses Burgess as he makes a decisive tackle in the Junior Varsity game with W-L.

Ben Walker jumps against W-L's All Metropolitan Star, John Hummer.

Varsity Cagers Tie for First Place In District

The Wakefield Basketball team finished in first place with an over-all record of 14-3. It was a season accented by speed and strong defense.

Having trouble at the start of the season the Warriors dropped their first two games to W-L and G. W., 58-45 and 65-62, respectively. With the victory over Marshall, 56-42, the Warriors began a ten-game winning streak.

The high point of the season came when Wakefield topped the Generals 58-54, holding John Hummer to only fifteen points. Too cocky for their own good, the Warriors dropped their next game to Falls Church 50-36.

This defeat did not dampen the Warriors scoring ability and the next week they defeated Marshall 60-36. They then defeated O'Connell and McLean, and closed the season defeating Stuart.

In tournament play Wakefield roared on to defeat Stuart 62-54. Playing their final game, somehow the Warriors defense just did not hold and the Warriors lost to W-L, 67-34.

Though losing the tournament, the Warriors finished tied for first place in the Potomac District and played one of their best seasons.

Little Warriors Bounce High

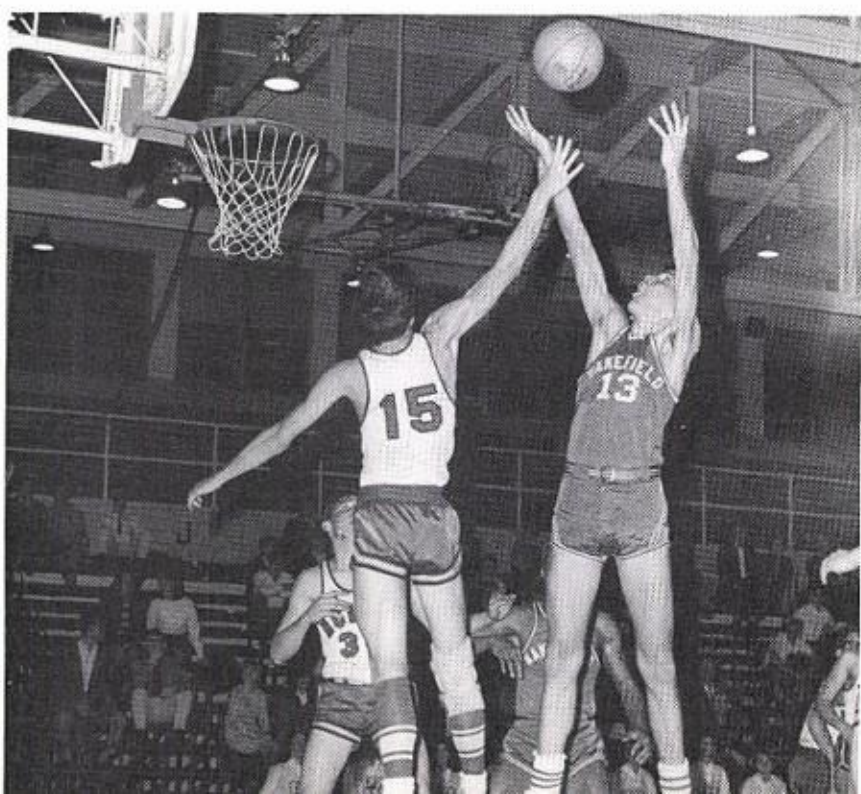

Wakefield's junior varsity basketball team, finishing in a second-place tie during the regular season in the Potomac District, went on to place runner-up in the Potomac District Tournament, bowing in the finals to the undefeated Yorktown junior varsity. The Baby Warriors' regular-season record was 6 wins and 4 defeats.

Mr. Neal Haygood, JV basketball coach, commented at the season's end that the team had no one real standout, but rather that the boys worked together as a whole for the team, and that they should produce fine varsity material for next year.

Harrier Squad Runs With Skill

"The Winner!" Frank Newbold crosses a soggy finish line first in a tri-meet with W-L and Williams. Following Newbold are Jeff Andrews and John Mann.

The 1965 Wakefield Cross-Country squad, even though hampered by injuries and illness, still managed to complete a successful season on November 13 by finishing a respectable tenth place out of 19 teams in the Virginia State Meet held in Williamsburg.

Varsity runners finished 17th out of 20 teams in the Wakefield Invitational Meet, but overcame earlier troubles to take fifth place in the Northern Virginia Regional Meet before traveling down-state to Williamsburg.

The Warrior harriers were led throughout the season by the combined efforts of Frank Newbold, John Mann, Ernie Moore, Ken Schmidt and Jeff Andrews.

The JV team enjoyed a good season, led by the fine running of Dave Dehuff, Steve Fridge, Harris Koenig, Bob Blair and Dan Merila. JV runners captured sixth place in the Class B competition in the Wakefield Invitational and finished second in the Northern Virginia Regional.

Booters Take All-Metro Title

The Wakefield Soccer Team had its greatest record in the history of the school, and made themselves All-Metropolitan champions. Although the team had its two-year unbeaten string snapped, the 1965 Warrior booters had an 8-2-2 over-all season record. The key to the soccer team's success was the defensive ability to hold down the opposition's score, led by the aggressive play of Myles Mernone, Mike Fitzpatrick and Steve Micas. The offensive also deserves much recognition, as a number of players turned in fine performances. Those who did score were Kambiz Behbahani, Scott Hannon, Tom Daniels, John Borden, Jon Vordermark, and Bill Sullivan.

At the close of the season it was announced that three Warriors had been named to the first-string All-Metropolitan Team. Kambiz Behbahani, a junior, made All-Metropolitan for the second straight year. He scored 16 out of Wakefield's total of 28 points. Seniors Myles Mernone, team captain, and Mike Fitzpatrick, goalie, both defensive stalwarts, were the others named to All-Metropolitan Team.

Feet are of the utmost importance in Soccer as is demonstrated here by Kambiz Behbahani, a junior, who was high scorer for Wakefield.

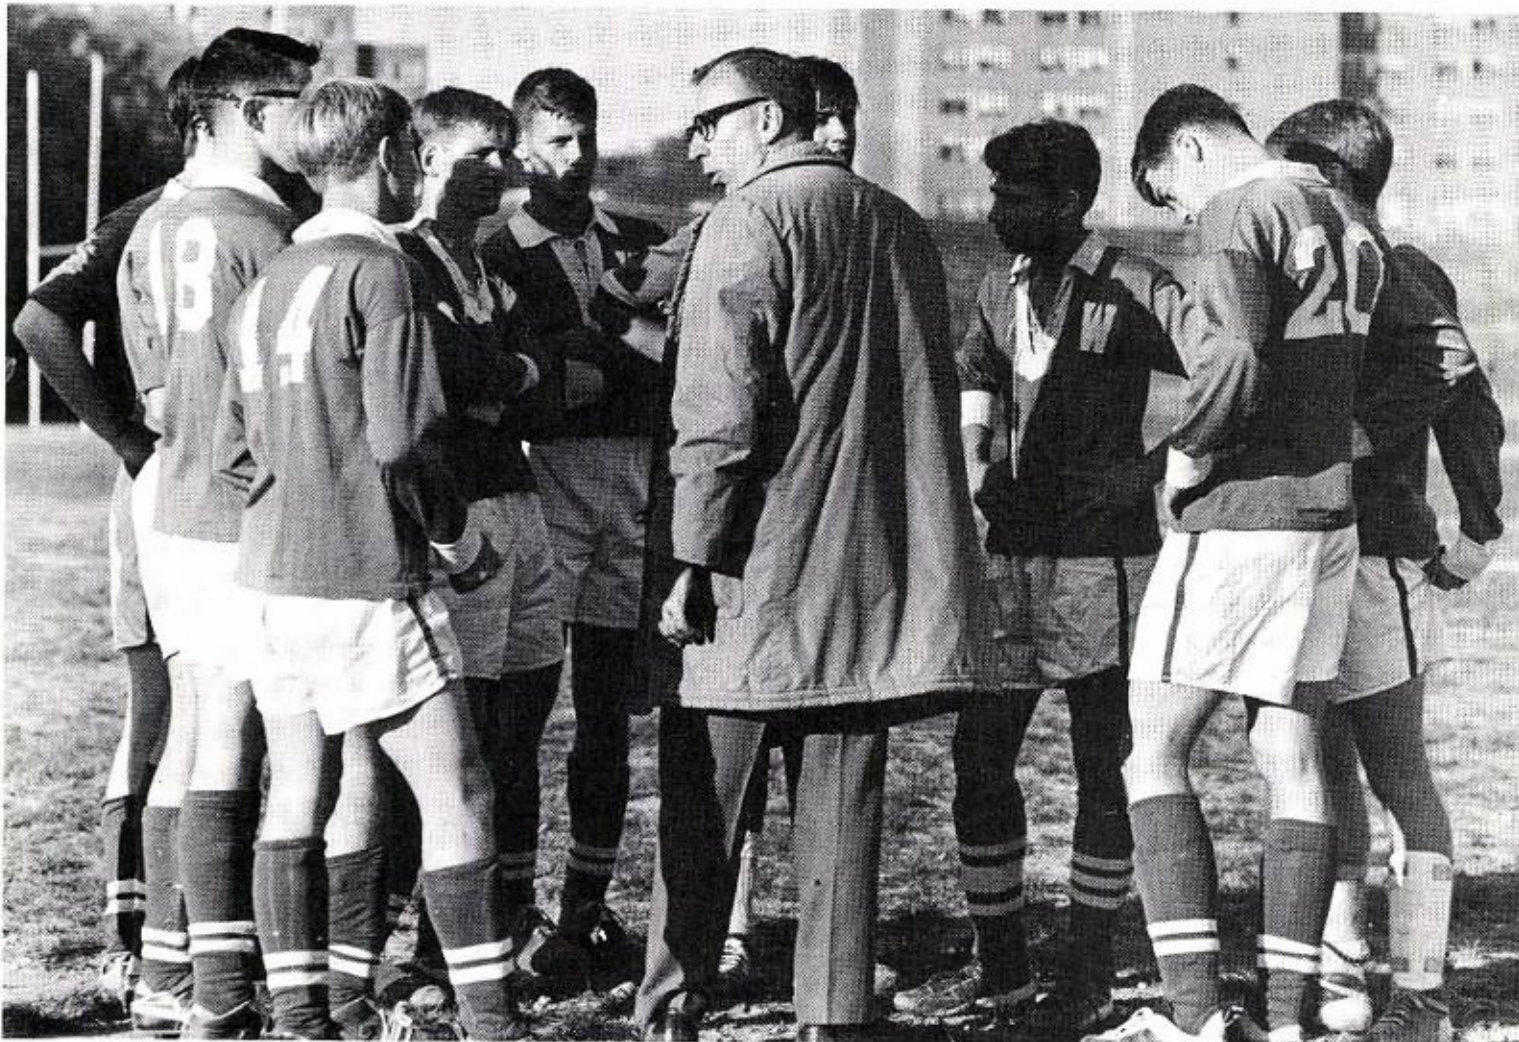

Mike Fitzpatrick shows his goalie ability which helped him to be named one of the three soccer members on the All-Metropolitan team this year.

Warriors Take First In District

Ron Yuter uses a Tight Waist Ride to overcome his opponent from Annandale.

In his first year as Wrestling coach at Wakefield, Mr. Varre's grapplers turned in a fine over-all record of 10-3. Led by the fine performances of Tommy Legge and Robert "Bullfrog" Taylor, the Warriors placed eighth in the state tournament. Both Legge and Taylor were the runners-up in the state in their respective weight classes, 112 and 127 pounds.

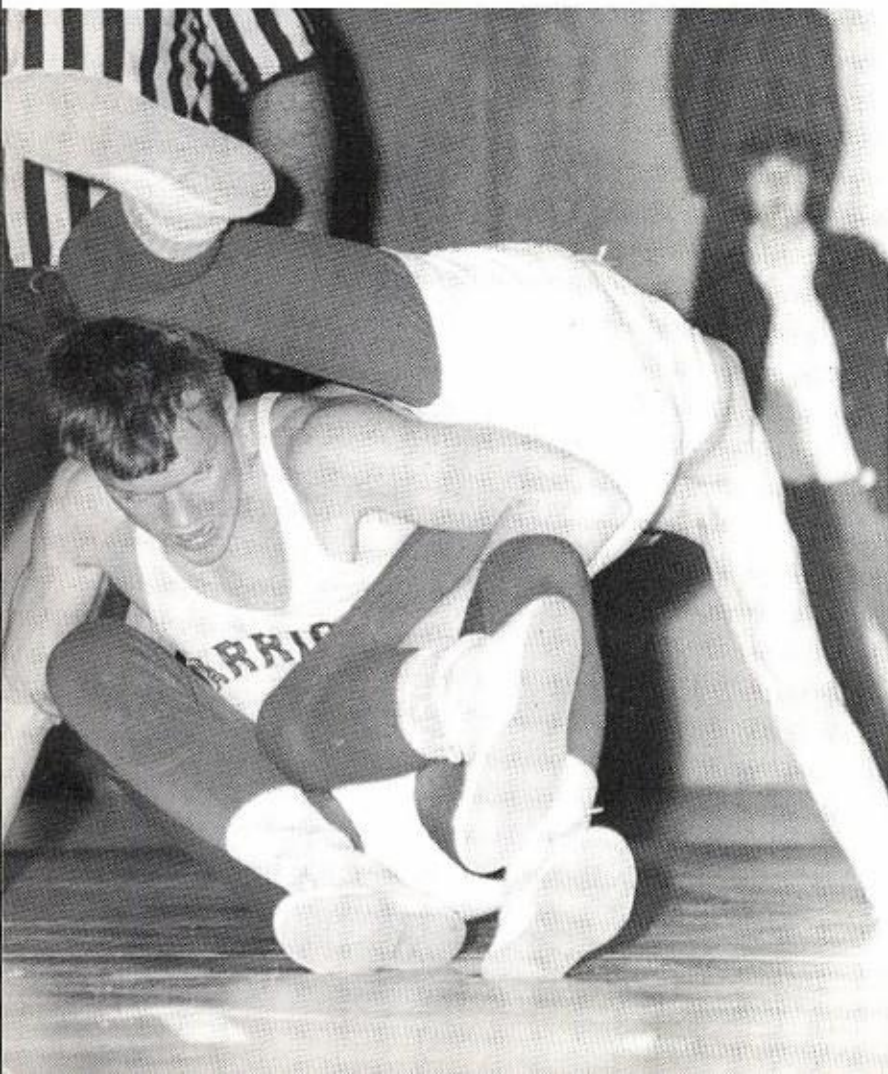

The season opened with Wakefield defeating O'Connell, Lee, Stuart, and Hammond. The first Fairfax team in three years to defeat Wakefield was the Mt. Vernon Majors, who beat Wakefield 31-18. As if to drive the point home, the next week the Falls Church Jaguars inflicted a 26-12 defeat on the dazed Warriors.

Getting back their old style, Wakefield defeated Yorktown and McLean 23-19, and 20-27, respectively. The Warriors then squeaked by W-L, 24-18, winning the last match with a pin by Yancy Phillips in the closing moments of the meet.

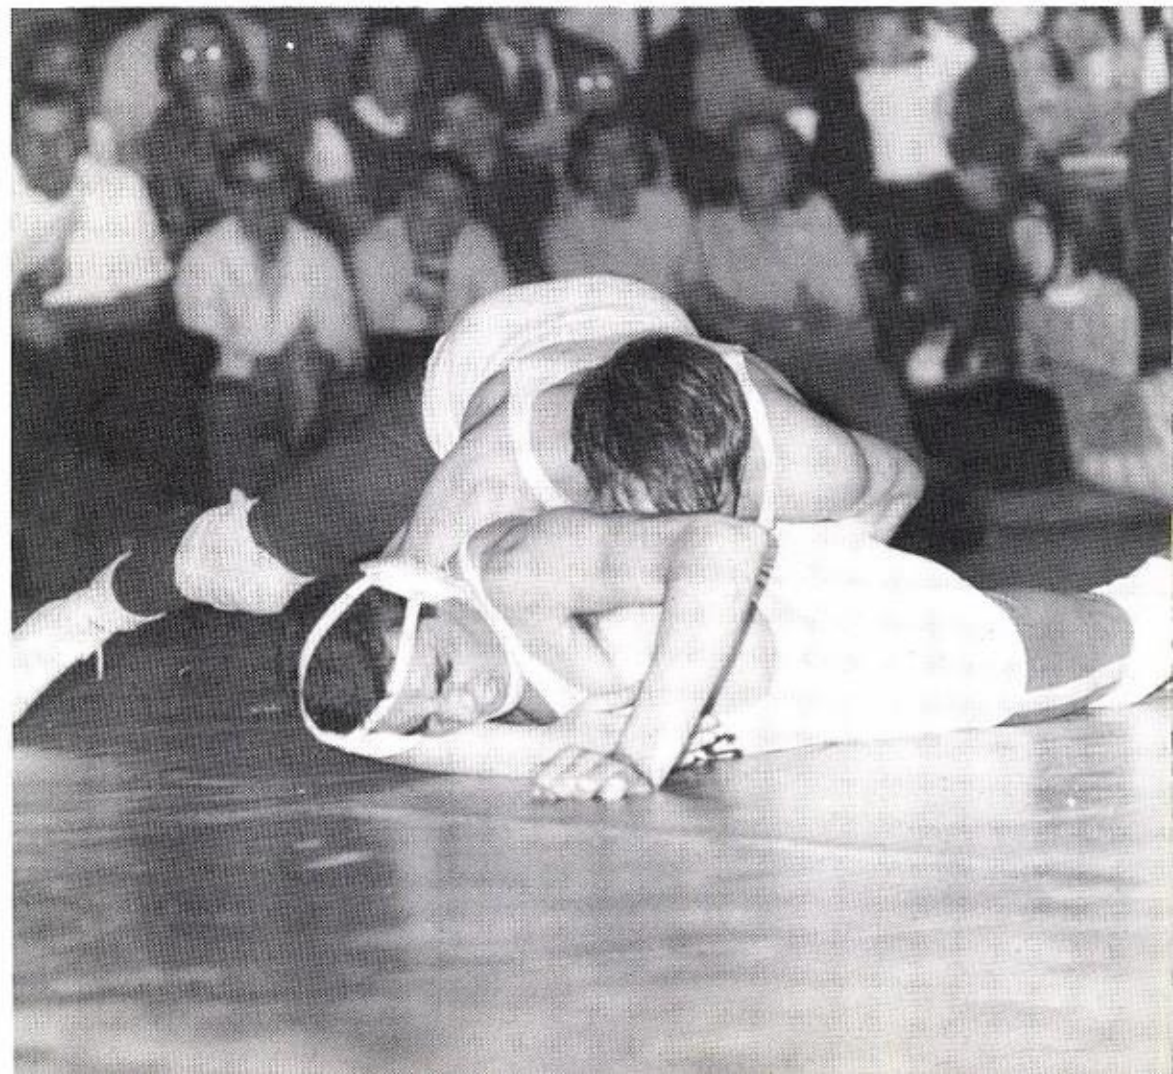

The Warriors easily defeated Marshall, Jefferson and Fairfax and then they ran head-on into the Annandale Atoms. Annandale was only the third team to beat Wakefield.

The Warriors went on to place third in the Northern Virginia Tournament, which sent David Hooper, Tommy Legge, Ron Stewart and Robert "Bullfrog" Taylor to the state tournament.

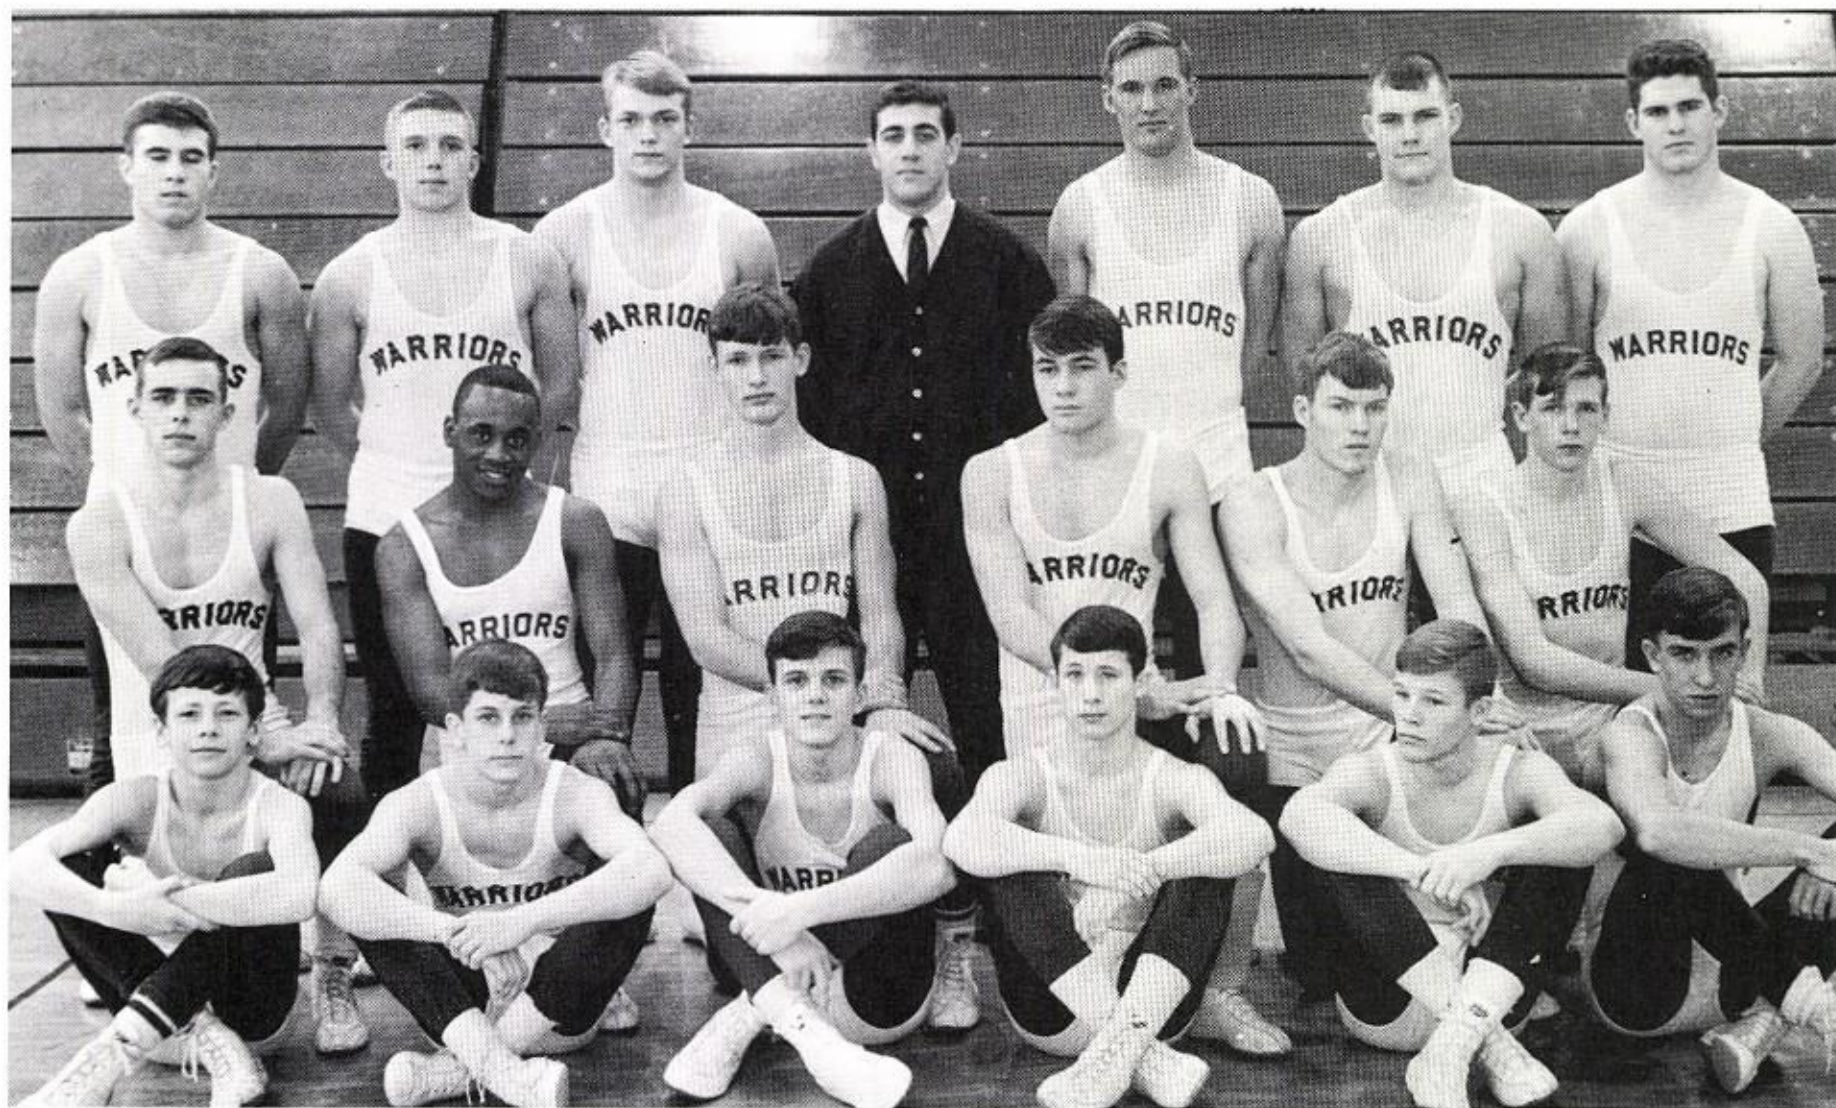

Rolling his opponent from Annandale, grappler John Westgate gains the advantage.

J. V. Grapplers Show Promise

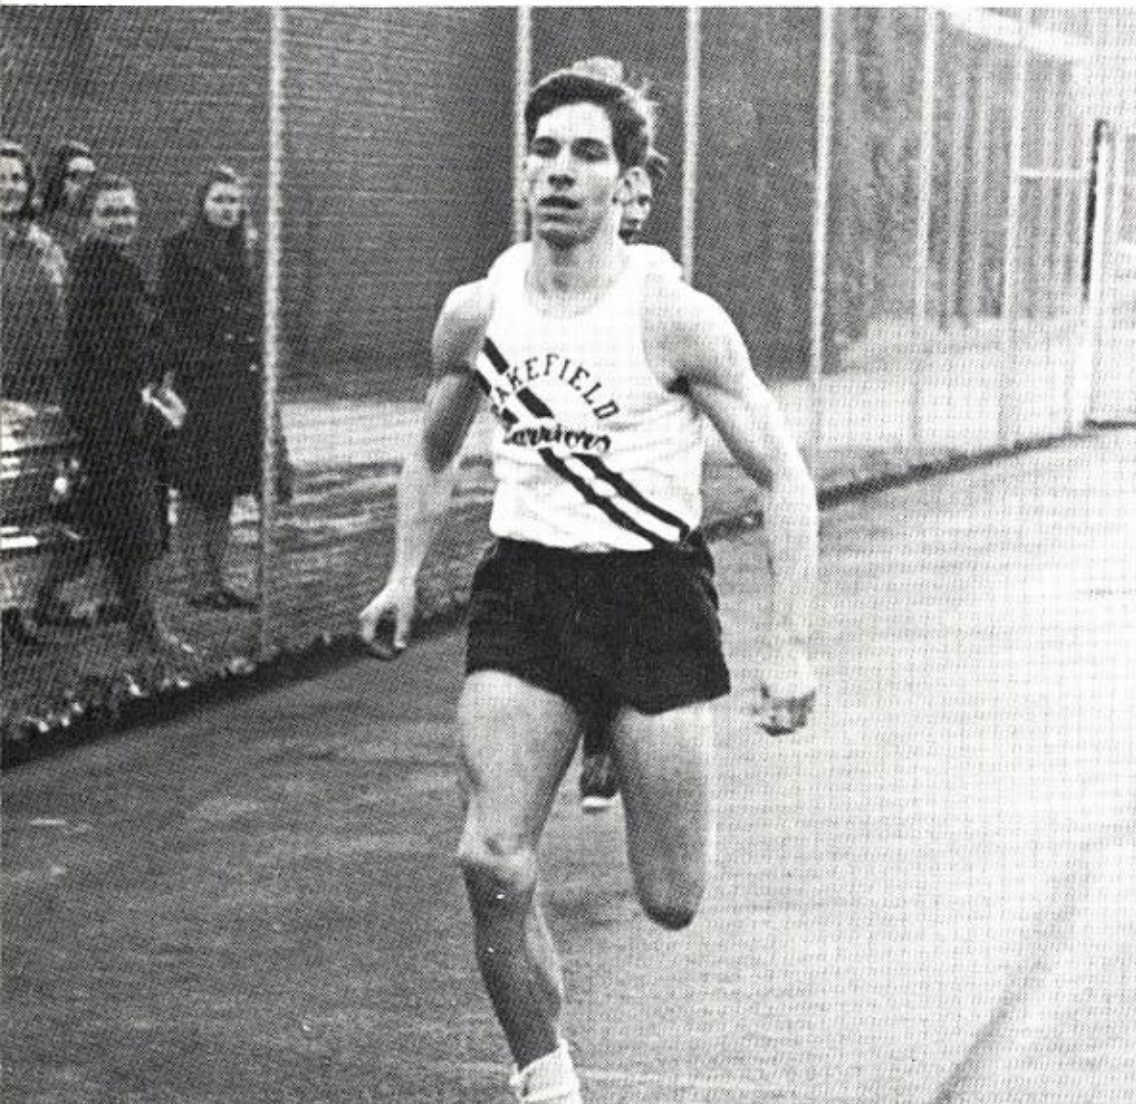

Led by many outstanding grapplers, the Wakefield junior varsity wrestling team posted an impressive 6-2 won-lost record for the 1965-66 season. Unfortunately, the Baby Warriors matmen did not have a wrestler who went the season undefeated, but many individuals lost only one match during the campaign.

Standouts on this year's JV wrestling squad included Bob Holmes in the 103-pound class, Steve Fridge, 120-pound class, Mike Nicholson, 127 pounds, Glenn Tupica, 145 pounds, and Dan Shannon 154 pounds.

Indoor Track Runs First In State

Mark Lamb practices the 60-yard dash around the tennis court in preparation for the Wakefield-Yorktown meet.

Wakefield's Indoor Track team made school history by being the first Wakefield team in history to take the State Track Championship, led by the fine performances of Tom Daniel and Rusty Somers. Somers broke the state high jump record with a 6'3¼" effort and Daniel tied the state record with a 7.2 time in the 60-yard low hurdles.

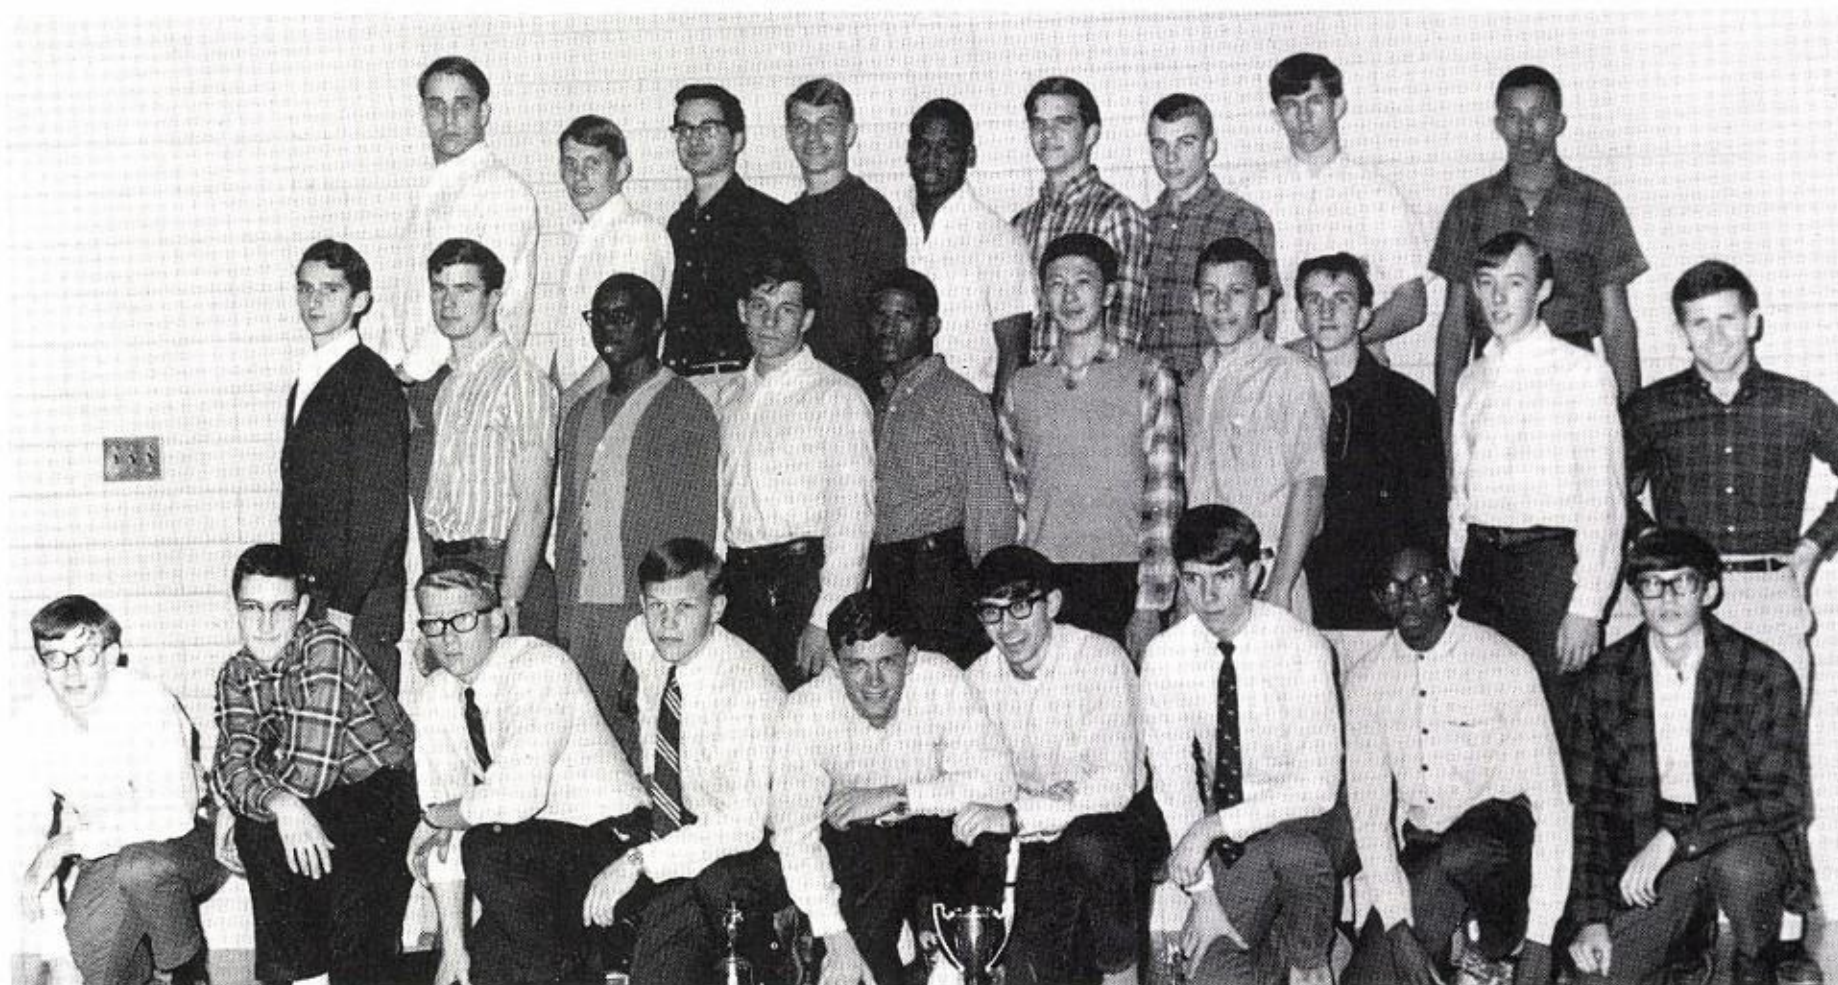

In other meets Wakefield trampled Woodberry Forest, 65-25½, and T. C. Williams, 89-13. The team also defeated St. John's 79-25. Much credit must go to Coach James Motes.

Despite the cold weather, many individuals still reported for outdoor track. With such a large turnout it is hoped Wakefield can build a strong team and enjoy a winning season.

Individual Trackmen Run Hard

Wakefield's Outdoor Track squad, with a strong nucleus returning from last year's team, again looks toward a most promising year. Notable returnees include Steve Butler, Tom Danniels, Bob Spencer, Mark Lamb, and Don Tillett in the relays; Bruce Cornwall and Mike Jeffrey, pole vaulting; Steve Butler, shot put; and Tom Danniels, hurdles. The team will also be bolstered by Bill Sullivan in the dashes, Chuck Moore and Rusty Sommers in the high jump, Frank Newbold in the mile, and John Thacker and Steve Lane in the long jump.

Coach James Motes feels this year's squad should be well balanced in all aspects. It is hoped that the track team will be able to break many records en route to a successful season.

Mike Jeffrey times himself for his greatest effort in the pole vault during a track meet.

Ernie Moore clears the bar as he leaps far into the air for the high jump.

Girls Track Team Begins Second Year

Under the direction of Mr. Reynolds, the Wakefield Girls' Track Team began its second year. With many outstanding seniors and underclassmen, the Girls'

Track Team is looking forward to another successful season. The lack of organized girls' track meets is a severe handicap to the team.

Gymnasts Win Nine Gold Medals in

Scoring an impressive 100 points more than any other team in the competition, the varsity gymnastics team romped through the state meet, thus completing its most successful season on record. Warriors captured all but one of the ten gold medals in the state championships at U. Va., with team captain Al Gatti winning the title of best all-around gymnast in the meet.

From their commanding win over the Navy Plebes to their crushing victories in the Yorktown Invitational and the state meet, the Warrior squad remained undefeated with the exception of their second encounter with the powerful Wheaton team, at which time the Maryland boys edged the Warriors by a slim six-point margin. The outlook for next year's season is very good, with five boys from this year's team returning.

Plagued by numerous recurring injuries, the Wakefield gymnasts showed that work and determination could dethrone the traditionally victorious Yorktown team from their three-year reign of State gymnastics.

Jim Lewis shows his versatility by performing a one-arm balance in his floor-exercise routine. Jim won the gold medal in a three-way tie for the state parallel bar title.

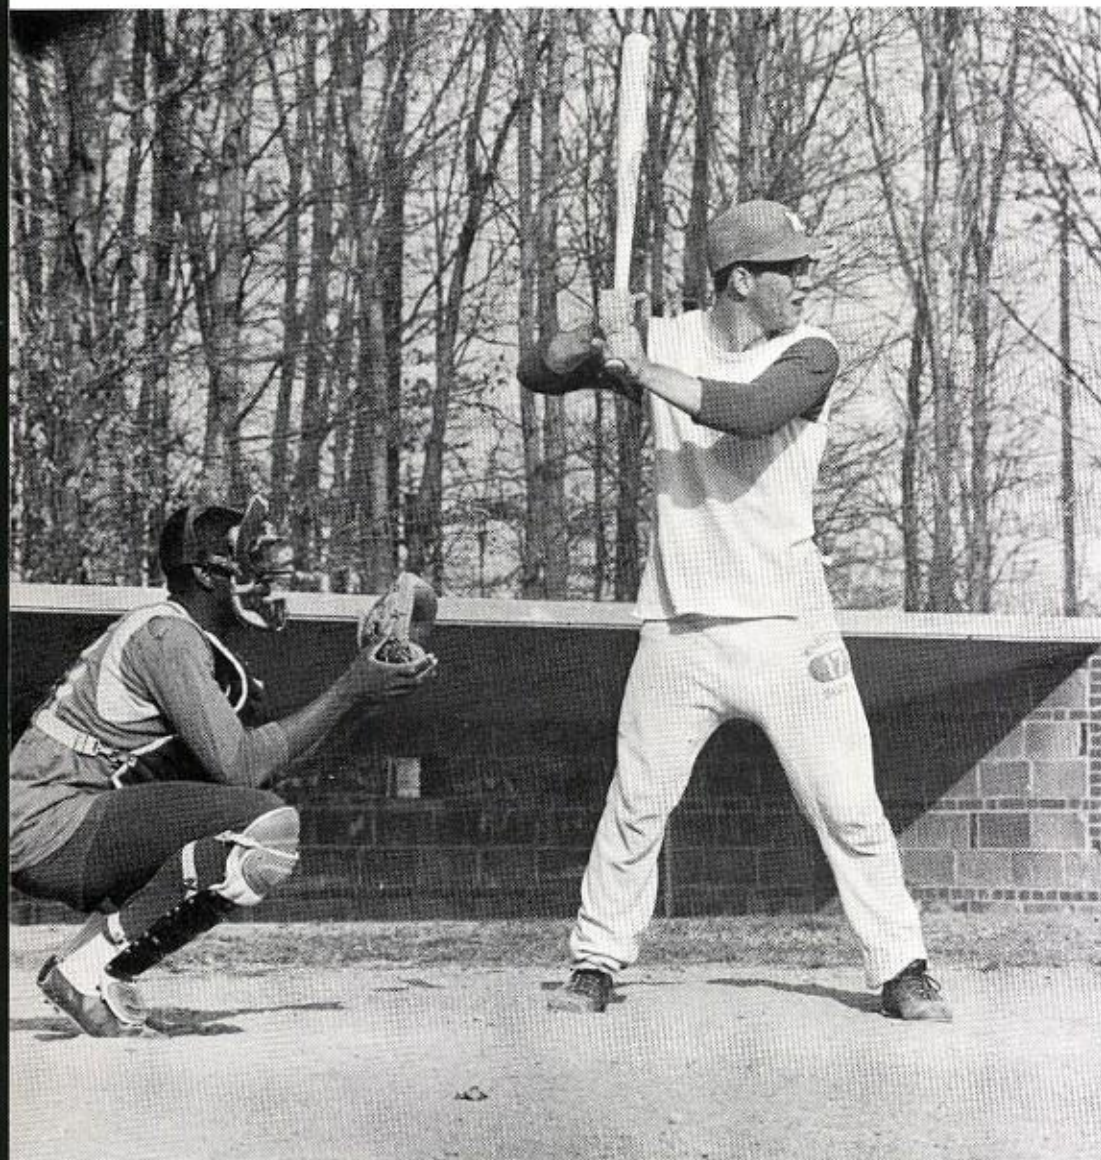

Top Warrior side horse man, Ray Gatti, floats his way through his impressive routine. Ray placed on the side horse, parallel bars, and vaulting at the state meet in Charlottesville.

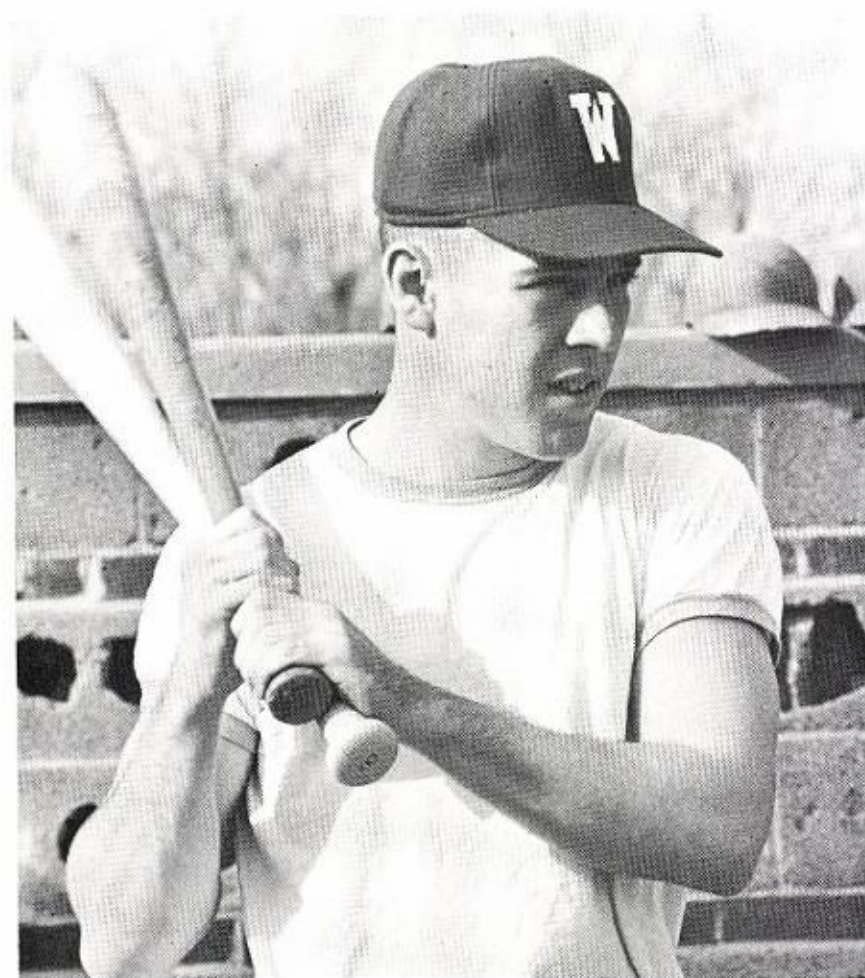

Lone sophomore varsity competitor Mike Taffe holds a solid straddle "L" during his floor-exercise routine at the state meet. Mike also placed a strong third place in state trampoline competition.

Experience Adds To Baseball Hopes

War Whoops Ring Out

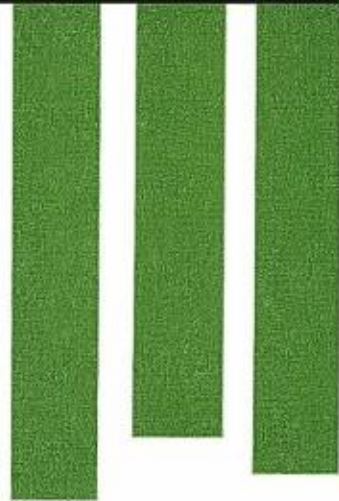

A GREAT YEAR OF ACHIEVEMENT...

Faculty

Fall greeted a new administration and, as the new duties were accepted, the faculty prepared for a successful year. Winter came quickly and while the faculty worked overtime to prepare students for college or careers, the students realized, either consciously or unconsciously, their need for the faculty. Spring meant farewells to teachers, counselors, and administrators. They will be missed.

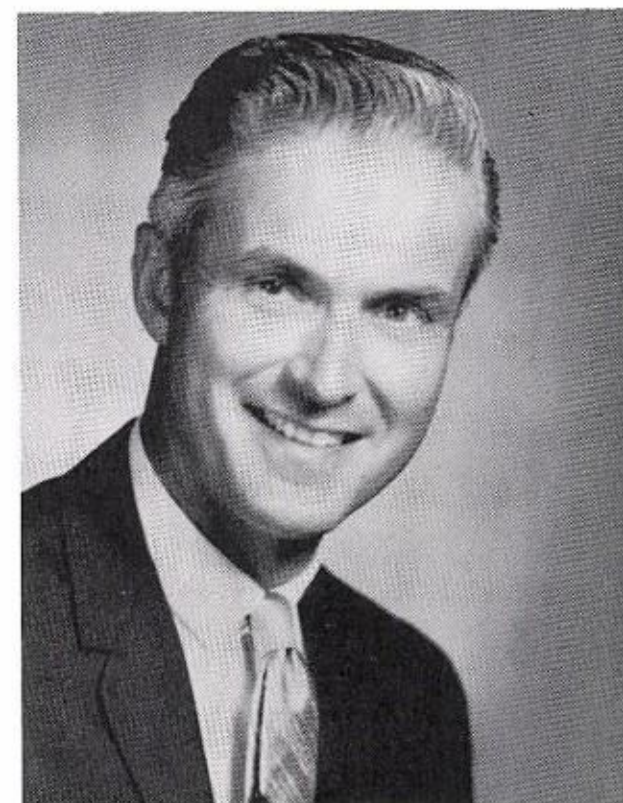

and Administration

The STARSTONE is proud to present Wakefield's new principal, Mr. Henry A. Renz.

Mr. Henry Renz and Mr. Thomas Cabelus work hard on preparing the standings for the senior class before the students began to apply for college.

MR. THOMAS J. CABELUS, JR.
Associate Principal

Administrators

In the early months of this year I made the following statement to the members of the student body:

"You have a unique opportunity and a unique responsibility. Without question the burdens of leadership and citizenship will lay heavily upon you. I cannot and will not make your task an easy one. I shall ask and I shall expect the highest calibre of leadership and effort for the general good, of which you are capable. I shall challenge you repeatedly to solve your problems and to provide an example of excellence."

As we look back on the year just completed, I feel tremendous pride in the way in which you accepted my challenge. Significant progress has been made.

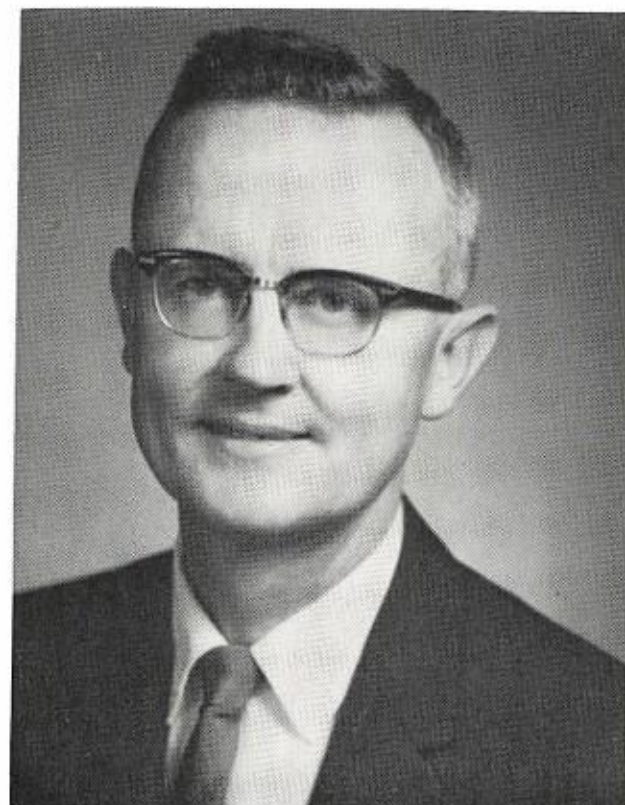

To those of you who are graduating, I say, thank you. The success of this year would not have been possible without your support. As you leave Wakefield I hope that you will approach with confidence the challenges which you now must face.

To those who remain, your continued support will be needed if we are to fully achieve our purposes. I look forward, with a great deal of anticipation, to working with you next year.

Chart A Rigorous Course

Attendance

Mrs. Pauline Pascoe has charge of the Central Attendance Office. This office is the center of all accounting for the total student body, such as presence, absence, tardies, and the leaving of school early. It is a tremendous task, but many thanks for accurate records go to the faculty members who keep Mrs. Pascoe alerted to the whereabouts of our many students.

Registrar

Mrs. Mary Stout has charge of all the cumulative folders in the school and is concerned with requesting, receiving, and recording all transcripts of grades. Records of all transfer students and students who are planning to attend college are also processed in this office.

Treasurer

Mrs. Elizabeth Tyree has the responsibility of all school accounts, keeping accounts for the School Board, the preparing of monthly and yearly financial statements, and the daily bank deposits of all funds. The Treasurer also advises clubs and other organizations in all financial matters.

Thousands of Little Details

Thousands of little details are handled daily by Wakefield's secretarial staff. Mrs. Davies, secretary to the Principal, has the responsibility of establishing and maintaining all secretarial and clerical office procedures to insure the efficient operation of the central office. Mrs. Fletcher takes care of all clerical work concerning the duties of Mr. Cabelus, such as textbooks, the curriculum, and time reports. Mrs. Bigelow is the guidance secretary. In addition to helping Mr. Neal, she is responsible for all College Board material. Mrs. Hawk has the tremendous task of operating the school switchboard. Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Fowler, and Mrs. Parker are our division secretaries. They cheerfully and efficiently take care of the unceasing problems and duties within their divisions.

Mrs. Davies, secretary to Mr. Renz, sets standards for all other secretaries in the School. Here, she pauses cheerfully to answer questions.

Many students see their counselors when they need help or need an answer to a question. Here, Sharron Rowe talks with Mr. Doles.

Guidance Is Always Ready To Help

Wakefield's Guidance Department strives to provide for the best possible adjustment and development of the individual student so that he may realize his potential and make some useful contributions to his society.

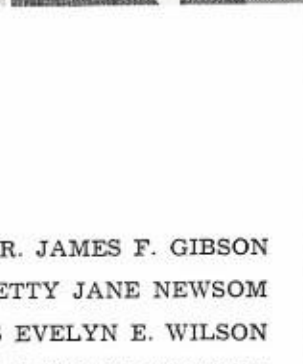

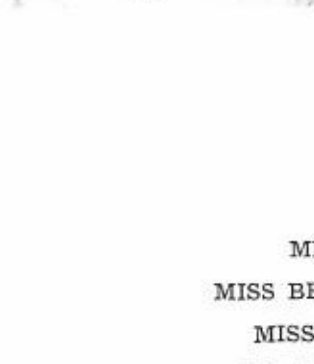

To accomplish this goal, the guidance counselors work with the student to plan a rich and varied program during his high school career and to help him make an intelligent choice of a future vocation or institution of higher learning. The department maintains a file of materials on colleges and vocations to help students make their post-graduation plans. College Night and Career Week programs are presented to aid this choice.

In addition to helping students with future plans, the counselors are always available to talk over any problem or answer any questions that bother a student. The topics may range from the development of proper study habits to an emotional distress that requires outside help.

Wakefield is proud of its library collection of over 25,000 books and 168 periodicals, including bound copies of back issues, and foreign magazines. The reference collection is extensive.

More than 5,000 volumes have been added this year alone, with outstanding growth in the fields of literary criticism, foreign language, and social sciences. There has also been considerable growth in Wakefield's audio-visual materials and old materials have been re-catalogued. The library's collection of materials is completed by an information file as well as a wide selection of college catalogues and occupational information.

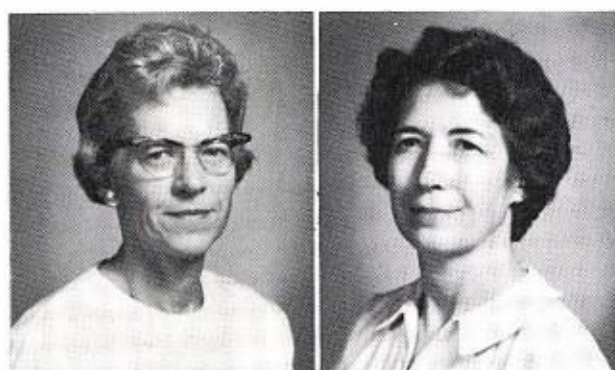

The staff of four librarians and three secretaries receives a great deal of invaluable help from student assistants and from mothers of students.

Guarding Health of Staff and Student

A warm welcome, a comfortable bed, and much sympathy are the chief prescriptions provided by the school nurse and her aide. Those students who have been injured or ill know how reassuring it is to be helped by the indispensable Mrs. Marjorie Kent and Mrs. Helen Hammond. From hangnails to emotional distress, they guard the health of the staff and student body from day to day. Approximately fifty students are sent to the Clinic each day. Aside from their daily duties, the nurse and her aide supervise the annual tuberculin tests, the vision tests, and the audiometer hearing tests. Many students who are interested in the medical field volunteer to work in the Clinic during their study period.

Many of the programs at Wakefield owe their success to their emphasis on the individual needs of each student. This is especially true of the Special Education courses.

Wakefield's Special Education Department strives to prepare students for success in the business world. The aim of the program is to give the student an opportunity to develop adequate work habits to enable him to hold a position.

The Special Education Program has helped many students to take their place in the fast-moving business world of today after graduation from Wakefield.

Spring Art Show Highlights Year

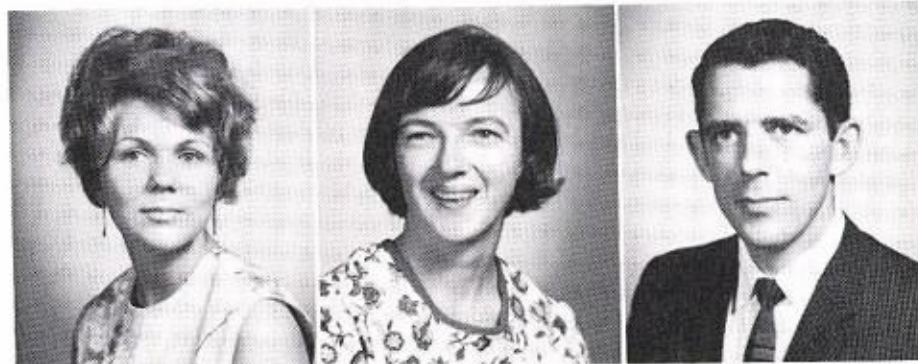

One does not have to be another Picasso to enjoy art. The Art Department stresses the importance of understanding and appreciation of the visual arts as well as the development of creative ability and skills.

Washington is transformed into a workshop and classroom. Lectures and tours are arranged to visit artists, art museums, and architectural masterpieces. Art experiences are carried out in a studio situation offering exploration and experimentation in a variety of media. Special training for students pursuing an art career is available. A Spring Art Show is assembled to display students' artistry.

Employers agree that the young man or woman with a knowledge in basic business and economic principles and a highly developed vocational proficiency in one or more business skills is the job applicant who will be hired.

Business Education in Wakefield is designed to fulfill both requirements. Business students learn skills in Typing, Shorthand, Bookkeeping, and Business Machines. Courses in Consumer Business, Business Law, and Economics develop understandings needed in conducting everyday business affairs.

Distributive Education courses are available to those students in the eleventh and twelfth grades who have a need for specialized business training. These courses are designed to give students practical instruction in retail, wholesale, and service occupations. The courses are supervised and administered cooperatively by the school and business community.

The Business Department is also in charge of running the school store.

Wakefield's English Department has the responsibility of preparing students to function effectively in their society. In today's world, nations as well as individuals must be able to communicate their ideas effectively by the written and spoken word. Therefore, the paramount aim of the English Department is to provide students with effective skills vital to communication. A secondary goal, but nonetheless an important one, is to instill in young adults an appreciation and understanding of good literature, not only for its own sake but as a means of understanding themselves and those around them. Students who cultivate a taste for literature may well find reading to be a worthwhile expenditure of time.

The new emphasis this year on World Literature at the Tenth Grade level, American Literature at the Eleventh Grade level, and British Literature for the Twelfth, coupled with participation in a county-wide experiment in linguistics, the scientific study of the English language, reflect the goal of the English Department to provide students with the best language arts program possible.

You think what was Grendel's tragic flaw? Mr. Richard Tarvechia seems amazed at something his senior English class has told him.

Mr. Gerald Groves, perched upon his desk, is awe-struck at the magnitude of a probing question asked by one of his alert American Civilization students.

Students interested in Dramatics may take two years of Drama courses. Here, Wayne Jones and Mrs. Mora Shell direct a special Christmas play.

Mrs. Miller listens as Mike Fitzpatrick, Pete Corcoran, Wayne Jones, Jerri Harris, and Sharon Weber plan a program on English and Scottish ballads.

For the student who finds his interests linked with the literary field, Wakefield's English Department provides a great opportunity for extensive work in the chosen field.

In the eleventh grade a student can choose to take American Civilization Seminar. The course combines the study of American Literature and American History. The course stresses the fact that the literature of America is an outgrowth of American History.

Miss Letitia Arnold and Mr. Gerald Groves both teach the course, which meets two periods a day, teaching together at times and individually on other occasions.

Twelfth grade students with an interest in literature can take Art-English and Music Seminar. This course stresses the close link between Art, Music, and English. Field trips help the students to understand better and appreciate the fine arts.

For the student who would like to put his literary talent into practice, a course is offered in Journalism. The student learns to appreciate works in Journalism and to recognize slanted views. Technical aspects of newspaper writing are also studied.

Family Life Stressed In Home Economics

Improvement of family life is the aim of the Home Economics Department. Courses within the Department appraise the values and ideals we live by and the factors which influence home and family fulfillment both in the home and community.

The program of studies covers a broad field which includes foods and nutrition, taught by Mrs. Jean Raabe; clothing selection and construction, taught by Miss Ann Kensek; and courses in family economics and housing, taught by Mrs. Minnie Tate.

Seniors may elect a general course which briefly covers all areas of homemaking, which is taught by Mrs. Minnie Tate.

of industry. Its purpose is to help a student identify and develop interests and aptitudes in Industrial Education and provide a background for students going into such technical professions as architecture and engineering.

Vocational Trades courses offer preparation and technical training for students entering employment in the areas of printing, air conditioning and refrigeration, and auto mechanics, upon graduation. Results of these courses are seen in showcases around school; hand-made jewelry from the Lapidary class is especially popular. From the Print Shop comes the enticing posters advertising school activities.

Industrial Cooperative Training courses are designed to enable the student to learn a trade through on-the-job training while attending school. These courses are supervised and administered cooperatively by the school and business community.

Can you carry on an absorbing conversation in French, Spanish, German—or even Latin? It is the hope of every teacher in the Language Department that his instruction will help each student to attain fluency in a language and give him a better understanding of people from other lands.

For students who plan to continue a chosen language in college, the intensified courses in French and Spanish offer advanced work, such as the reading of great works in the original language.

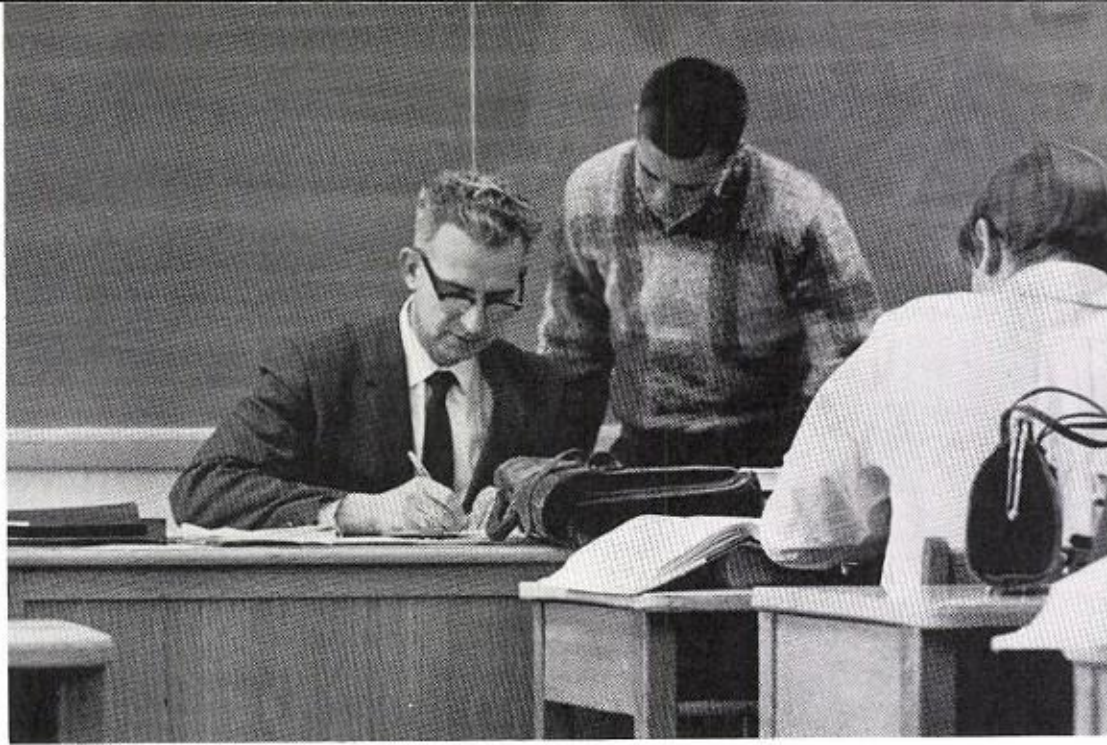

A new course at Wakefield is a world history course taught completely in French. Credit is given either for one year of French or one year of social studies.

Because the advancement of communication has brought the people of the world closer together, knowledge of a foreign language is imperative to a better understanding of the people of the world.

Students Explore Science of Numbers

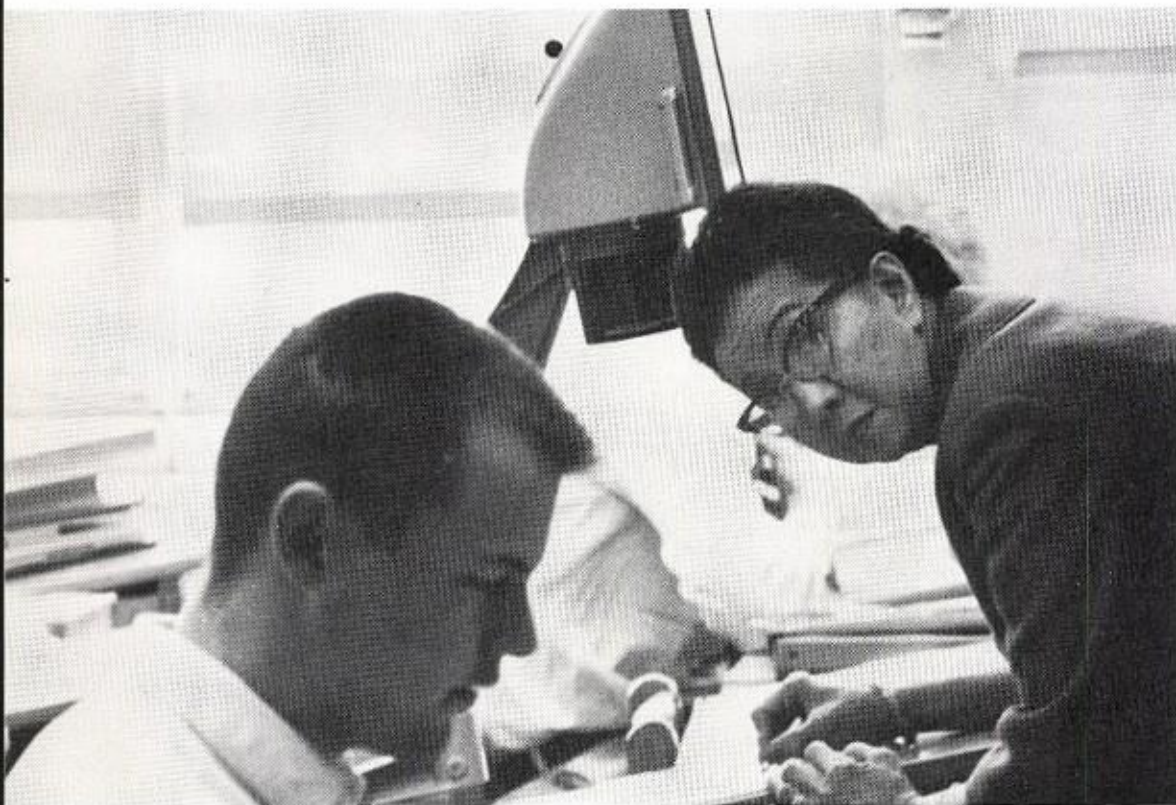

Cosines, curves, and coordinates puzzled more than a few aspiring mathematicians this year. Realizing the vital role the science of numbers plays in our lives, the Math Department is organized into numerous sequences of courses, which are adapted to the needs of all students.

The academic students are offered a sequence of courses which enable them to develop skills and abilities in algebra; plane, solid, and coordinate geometry; trigonometry; and elementary analyses. The Advanced Placement Program students delve into the mysteries of analytical geometry and calculus. For Upperclassmen planning a vocation after graduation, Senior Mathematics is offered. It contains a study of consumer problems that are encountered daily.

In all courses, particular stress is placed on logical thinking as well as proficiency and accuracy in the use of computational processes.

Halls Are Alive With Music

The halls are alive with the sound of music when Wakefield's Choral and Instrumental classes are in session. The goal of the Music Department is to give the pupils a knowledge of musical techniques through performance and the study of music theory.

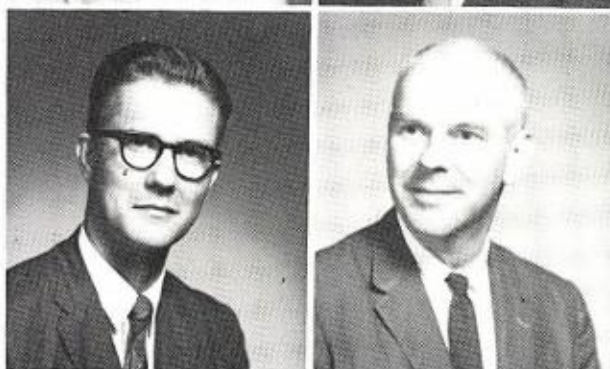

Students of the Choral Department are taught techniques of singing, music theory, and sight reading. This aids the student in developing his own personal talent as well as his ability to perform with others. Talented choral members have the opportunity to audition for membership in the Wakefield Singers.

The ability of students in the instrumental department is challenged by extensive rehearsal and performance of great masterpieces. Instrumental students have the opportunity to join Chamber Groups.

Performances by the choral and instrumental groups have given the students and faculty of Wakefield a great amount of pleasure and pride.

Emphasis on team sports with some introduction to individual sports is stressed in the Sophomore year.

Junior girls are presented units in sports appreciation, physical fitness, and personal problems during their nine-week health study. In physical education added stress is given individual activities and modern dance.

Opportunity for further exploration in all class activities is provided through intramurals. Throughout the school year honor teams are selected in intramurals to compete with other schools.

"Push up, pull down, push up, pull down"—this is the sound of physical fitness in the Boys' Health and Physical Education Department. Physical fitness is the key to the entire Department, a fact the male student body becomes acutely aware of shortly after its arrival at Wakefield. Each day the boys work out to condition their muscles and keep them in shape.

The Tenth grade program consists of one semester in Health Education and one semester in Physical Education. Health Education offers units in mental health, alcohol, tobacco and narcotics, a standard Red Cross first aid course, and anatomy. In Physical Education, emphasis is placed on vigorous individual and team sports and physical fitness.

The Eleventh grade is entirely devoted to Physical Education. Emphasis is again placed on vigorous individual sports and physical fitness. Squads and teams are organized within classes according to scores made on physical skill tests.

Challenge of Democratic Living

The social studies classroom is a laboratory of democratic living in which students and teachers practice the principles and ideals of American democracy. The classroom, the community, and a variety of guest speakers form a workshop for study of both past and contemporary problems.

The United States History course is a survey of the development of our country. The Government course emphasizes the structure, function, and theory of the government on the national, state, and local levels. The course also makes an intensive study of the U.S. Constitution, and the comparison of American ideology with that of Communism, Socialism, Fascism, and Monarchy. Courses in Psychology, World History, Russian History, and World Affairs complete the Social Studies curriculum.

The reward of the Department is the development of competent citizens who will be capable of meeting the challenge of a democratic way of life.

Leading the orchestra? Not exactly! Miss Jane Barker is trying to make a point to her government class with the help of her ball point pen.

Labs Demonstrate Science Principles

Although vitamins, velocities, and valences may have caused confusion among more than a few future scientists, none could say it was due to outdated teaching materials. To keep pace with the ever-growing demands on scientific development, new teaching techniques to enrich instruction have been provided to meet this increased challenge.

"This must be one of those days I've always heard about," reflects Mrs. Lieber as she and Mr. Caughey prepare a Biology lab on a frog's anatomy.

New courses in Chemistry and Biology were introduced this year. The Biological Science Curriculum Study program and the Chemical Education Material Study program were offered for the first time at Wakefield. In addition to the new courses, the PSSC physics program and Intensified Chemistry were also offered. There is a greater emphasis on working in the laboratory this year. These lab experiences enable the student to see how a scientist actually works, and gives him the opportunity to reason out for himself some of the basic principles of science.

The new courses and the enriching lab experiences will better prepare the student for college experience and for an understanding of his environment.

A YEAR OF ACHIEVEMENT . . .

The summer was great, but like all good things, it had to go. Fall arrived, and along with it new teachers, friends, and classes. Winter found us sweating out College Boards, wrestling tournaments, and basketball games. Last but not least came spring, our noble messenger with news of Proms, graduation, and FREEDOM!

Classes

"Pennies, pennies everywhere!" exclaim Roger Coles, Treasurer, and Dick Taffe as they count pennies collected at lunch for the senior prom.

Seniors Lynn Konchnik and Carol Nielson dedicate their study halls to Mr. Charles Scott's fifth-period Chemistry class.

Upperclass Council Represents Seniors

Composed of two representatives from each division, the primary purpose of the Upper Class Council is to plan senior activities. Throughout the year the council sets its goal toward the Senior Prom and Graduation. Council members organized Club '66 to benefit the members of the senior class and raised money for the Prom from the sale of class pins and Club '66 dues.

They sponsored the Basketball Queen Dance and the traditional Junior-Senior Basketball Game in the Winter. The council also sponsored the annual Splash Party after the Senior Prom. In the Fall, the members of the Upper Class Council worked hard to issue Merit Cards and to provide Seniors with their privileges.

Number 34's certainly prone to be the luckiest of the lot! Lucky Gant, Wakefield's star player, made the All Metropolitan and All Potomac teams.

After hearing the news that she might be accepted as the first girl on the team, Nancy Jones is all smiles in her shoulder pads.

There was hardly room to breathe beneath this sign on Thursdays and Fridays as everyone rushed to buy tickets to our victorious games.

The Baby Warriors keep their day busy by building blocks in the nursery, one of the activities in which the very underclassmen express themselves.

You can't blame the poor little Warriors for being bored with the assembly. How would you like to have to compete with this group of giants?

One of the courses in Wakefield is Child Care. Barbara Fletcher teaches the art of art to the nursery members and also learns from them.

Class '66 Ends Unparalleled Year

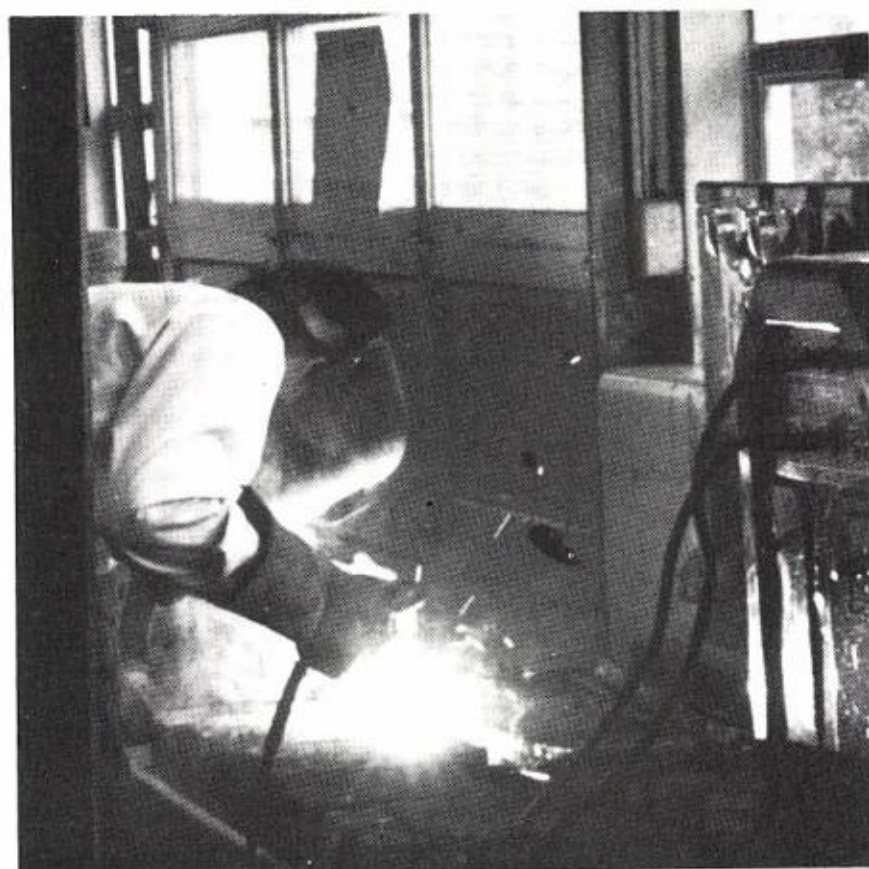

Graduation caps and diplomas, senior rings and merit cards signify the end of another successful year . . . the year of the very special class of '66.

Juniors Increase Proficiency by Work

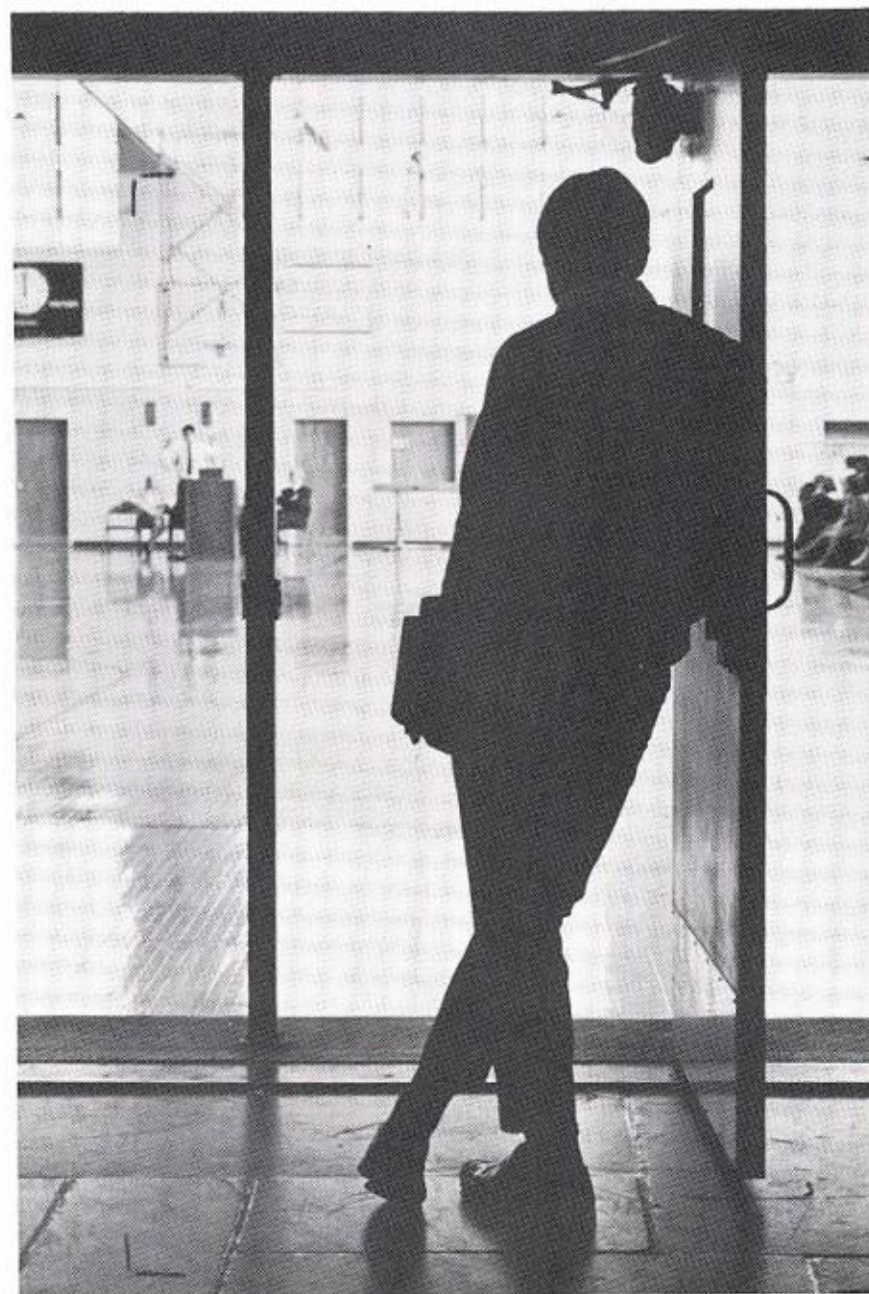

Harry Boscoe, illustrious senior, takes full advantage of the unusual surroundings. Wakefield Warriors work in welcomed silence.

Juniors enter Wakefield for their second year. Problems seem smaller and faces seem friendlier. As winter covers the ground with white, school settles down to a quiet place. Spring dances in with sun and then finals. When summer splashes in, Juniors think of their Senior year and summer months of fun.

Wakefield's industrial arts courses offer much opportunity to the interested student. Here a student illustrates the techniques of welding.

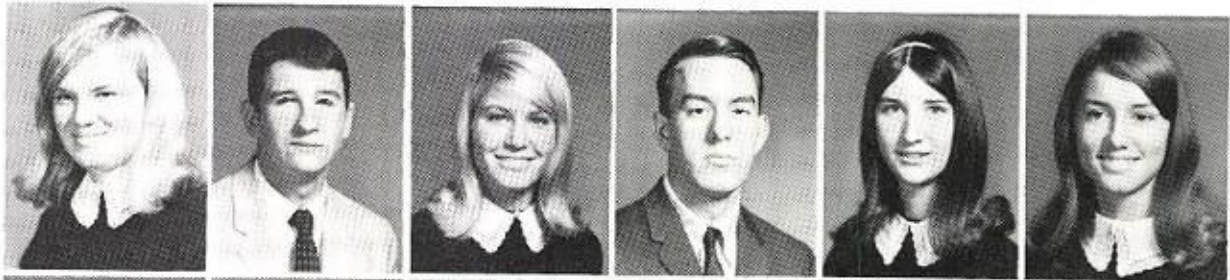

He stands, quietly listening to the speaker in the gym. Here is a person who appreciates the time given to people who have something to say.

H DIVISION JUNIORS

First Row:

Sharman Anderson, Dana Arnold, Janice Barrow, James Battle, Bonita Bauer, Rita Bell.

Popular Mr. David MacIntyre, French teacher, is a man of many languages. Unlike most of us, he is hardly ever at a loss for the right words.

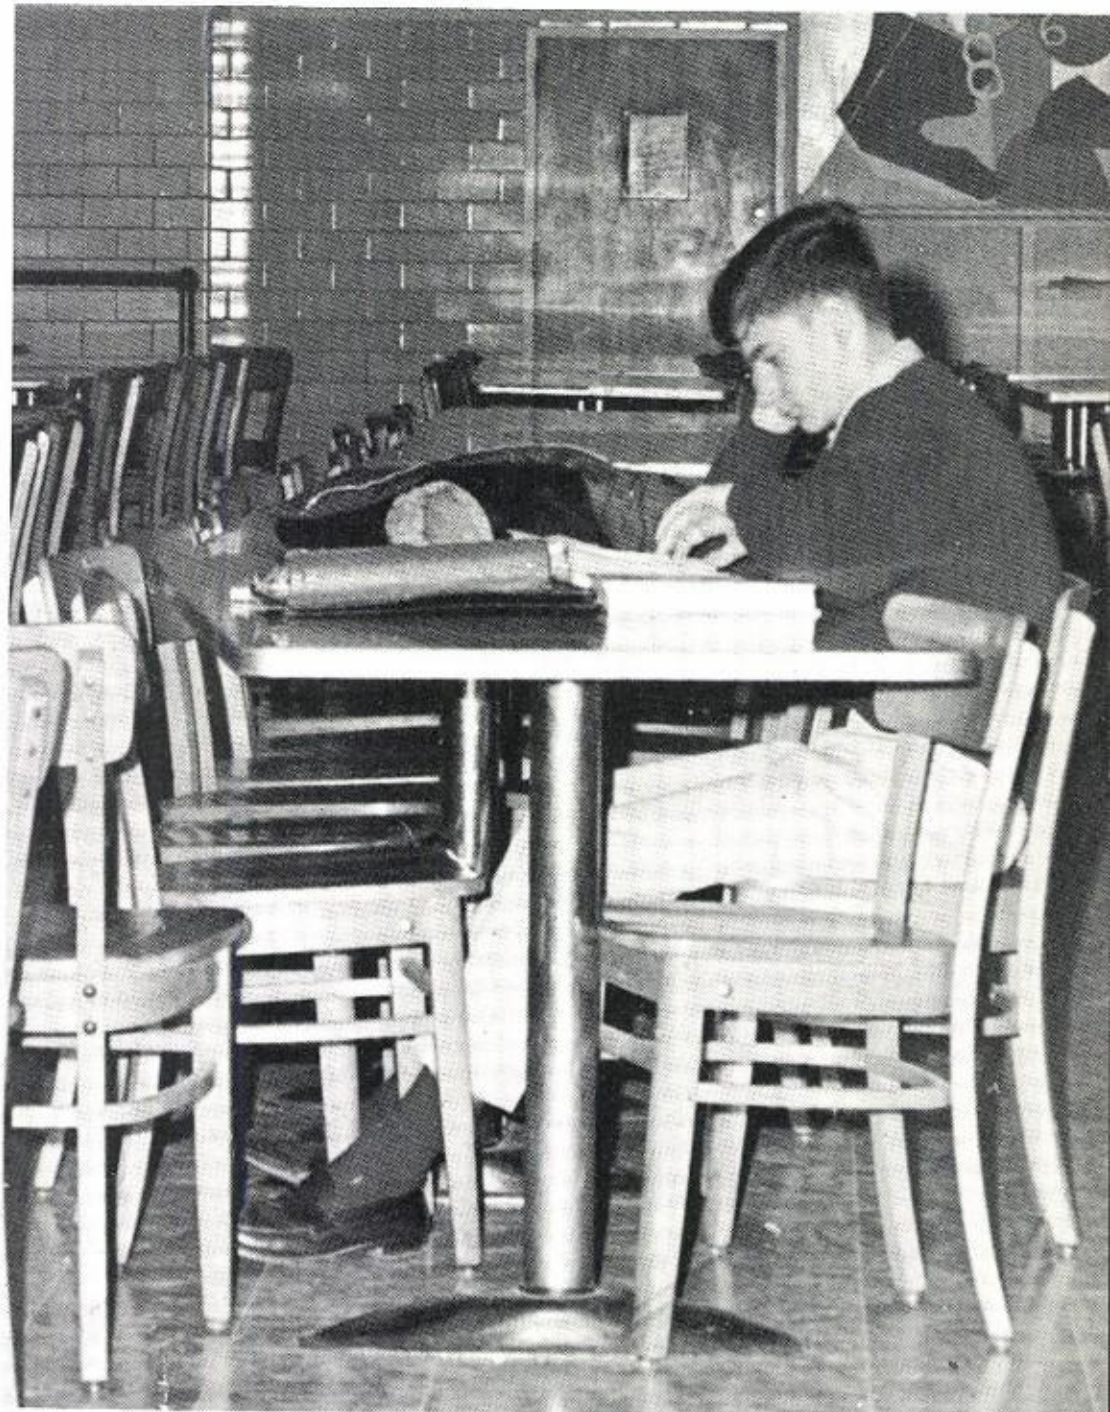

Sophomores Karen Kohler and Martha Salyers display great school spirit while cheering on Wakefield's junior varsity football team.

Soph Spirit and Talent Shines Forth

A new life awaits sophomores as they enter Wakefield. As fall progresses, schedules become easier and the school seems smaller. By winter, life is running smoothly with only occasional problems. As spring sprinkles in and passes into summer, sophomores look forward to their Junior year at Wakefield.

263 "Hey, Doug. Doug!" Doug Latto is either studying so hard or he is so bored with studying that he doesn't realize everyone has left him.

One-sixth of a sophomore's school life is spent in the Biology room. One of the experiments he performs is the dissection of a frog. "UGH!"

To the Graduating Class:

A Message of Congratulations from Virginia's Oldest National Bank

Although First & Citizens National Bank of Alexandria is the oldest National Bank in Virginia, founded in 1864, we dedicate ourselves to the future.

This year finds graduates at the threshold of tomorrow — entering a new and better world, with more challenges and more rewards than at any time in history. We of First and Citizens share with you every confidence in this future.

Many of you, we are sure, will come to know First & Citizens personally in the years ahead. We look forward to the pleasure of serving you, as a financial counselor, as a neighbor, and as a fellow citizen. We pledge to serve you well.

Our heartfelt congratulations to each of you.

Jim,
 To a great
 guy. Remember
 Mrs. J. and English
 (How could you forget?)
 Good luck in the S.C.A. next year!

Mary
 Herndon

Jim,
 Congratulations
 on being Jr. Class President!
 You'll be a real good one.
 You really been great knowing you. You're really sweet. Have fun this summer. Best of luck always. Yaff ya,
 Donna
 Rogers

Jimmy,
 WHAT ABOUT
 THAT PARTNERSHIP
 WE WERE DISCUSSING?!
 IT'S BEEN SUCH A COOL YEAR. ESPECIALLY WHEN YOU BEAT ME BY 3 VOTES
 IN THE SCA. DO YOU ALWAYS PICK ON GIRLS?

HEY, I HOPE YOUR SUMMER'S JUST GREAT. & THE BEST OF LUCK TO YA NEXT YEAR.
 BE GOOD & GOD BLESS YA,
 MIKE
 WC

Jim,
 To my love. To my one & only love during my whole (?) sophomore year.
 Remember me as the one faithful follower who wore all your dumb lil'
 ol' election cards to cheer you on to victory. What I mean is - It's been fun &
 I hope to see ya' next year.
 Good Luck & Love for this summer.

Love & Kisses,
 Jan

Jim,
 Boy I wish I was only a junior next year, then
 you'd be the Pres.
 of my class. Anyway
 thank you for saving me
 from being voted out.
 You can find me at 234 - (just kidding)
 you can ever dig me a great guy -
 the summer and play sweet love ya
 Mary.

Hey ya
Jim -

Well sorry bod.
its been nice knowing you - to a certain extent. No really that wasn't very nice - but thats me.

no honestly - see I am honest an moral etc. you are great.
guy with a supa cool personality.
That ought to be enough but you are also one of the most thoughtful and considerate guys I know. Its too bad your so far starved & so body conscious. Oh well with a shape like yours I see why!

Will you still come to Japan with me? Even tho
I hate your bod
BE GOOD!
Love ya
Alarcy
